Rescued Fliers Recuperate in North

Civilization looks good to rescued pilot Ernie Boffa, left, as he and mechanic Fred Reilly get first taste of food in many hours following rescue from Arctic late Thursday by RCAF planes. Taken to Sawmill Bay, crashed airmen are served piping hot meal by Cpl. H. C. Johnstone, second from left, and LAC H. R. Holtby at RCAF's Sawmill detachment. Rescued men were loud in their praise for air force.

Desolate Arctic waste was crash-landing scene of twin-engine Anson aircraft Monday in which veteran bush pilot Ernie Boffa and his mechanic Jack Reilly of Yellowknife escaped injury. Pair was rescued late Thursday evening by RCAF planes after being unheard of for nearly 72 hours. Air Force sent five planes into search for missing pair. —RCAF Photos.

Five Canadians Gain Irish Sweep Fortunes

Biggest Winner Gets $40,000

By The Canadian Press

At least five Canadians gained modest fortunes today as horses on which they held sweepstake tickets finished first, second and third in the running of the Derby, Britain's racing classic, on Epsom Downs.

Only one Canadian—Florian De-Jesnait of Montreal—was reported to have held a ticket on the winner, Nimbus. His ticket in the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans Association of Canada sweep will net him $36,855.

But the biggest Canadian winner was Alex McKee, Toronto seed-cleaning plant worker, who held a ticket on Amour Drake in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes.

His horse finished second to Nimbus in a photo finish. McKee wins $40,000. If his horse had gained the nod over Nimbus his $2.50 ticket would have netted him $100,000.

GIRL GETS $26,193

Myrtle Hebert of Toronto held a ticket on Amour Drake in the sweep and will collect $26,193. Nels MacFarland of Toronto-suburban Long Branch won $20,000 for his Irish Sweep on Swallow Tail.

A Canadian sweep ticket on Swallow Tail won $15,462 for W. Le Marquand of Montreal.

About 100 other Canadians are reported to have held Irish sweepstake tickets on other starters and these are worth $555, the same

7 to 1 Shot Is Winner Of the Derby

By GEORGE CHANDLER

EPSOM, Eng., June 4.—(UP.—Nimbus, a 7 to 1 shot owned by Mrs. M. Glenister of Britain, won the 170th running of the English derby at Epsom Downs today in a thrilling photo finish with Amour Drake second and Swallow Tail third.

A crowd of 300,000 watched the three leaders reach the end of the gruelling mile-and-a-half row in a blanket finish for the first photo decision in the 170-year history of the classic.

LEADS THROUGHOUT

Nimbus, a hard-driving bay colt, led virtually all of the way, but was almost caught at the wire by Amour Drake, a 10 to 1 shot owned by Leon Volterra of France, and Swallow Tail, a 100 to 8 shot owned by Lord Derby.

The field for the Derby was reduced to 32 shortly before post time when J. F. Emery's Ugongo was scratched.

Maj. R. MacDonald-Buchanan's Royal Forest, the 9 to 2 favorite ridden by Gordon Richards, Britain's leading jockey, finished out of the money. The disappointing showing of Royal Forest marked the 24th time that Richards has failed to win Britain's premier racing event, although he has ridden over 4,000 winners.

U.S. HORSE LOSES

The lone American entry in the field, Brown Rover, owned by chairman William Woodward of the Jockey Club, got off next to last and never was in contention, finishing far back in the bulky field.

Court Probe Of March Blaze Begins

Fire Department Said Inefficient At Expensive Fire

Probe into charges of fire department's inefficiency in fighting the Northern Hardware building fire opened today in Supreme Court before Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor.

The fire, which caused an estimated $3,000,000 damage, broke out on the evening of March 8 and continued burning until March 10.

Among matters to be probed are:

Was there undue or unnecessary delay in the fire department responding to the alarm? Undue or unnecessary delay in entering the fourth, fifth and sixth floors of the building to fight the fire? And whether the fire fighting methods used by the department were in accordance with proper practice and adequate.

EQUIPMENT CONDITION

Whether there was lack of water or water pressure, or deficiencies in any of the fire fighting appliances or equipment are other matters to be probed.

Conditions existing in the building at the time of the fire, and fire fighting equipment provided in the building also will be inquired into.

Neil D. Maclean, K.C., is counsel to the enquiry. Ronald Maitland, K.C., represents Fire Chief James A. Macgregor, and T. E. Gurslie, K.C., the City of Edmonton.

S. Bruce Smith, K.C., represents George Scott, president, Northern Hardware Co. Ltd., who joined with W. S. Campbell, vice-president, Gaulle (Alberta) Ltd., in laying charges of inefficiency against the fire department's operations at this fire.

The inquiry adjourned near noon today, to reconvene on June 11 at which time a list of names of experts connected with the inquiry will be made known.

LOUIS LIEBERMAN
... Fortune Fades

He 'Loses' 100 Grand

By JOHN McLEAN
Bulletin Staff Reporter

A local furniture dealer "lost" $100,000 this morning. And Louis Lieberman's only comment was "Better I should have held a ticket on Fistelbaum!"

Lieberman, who first heard he stood to win an Irish Hospital sweepstakes prize of $160,000 last Monday, chewed his finger nails to shreds in The Bulletin news room this morning as he listened to the on-the-spot broadcast of Britain's premier racing classic.

He held a ticket on Xerxes.

Xerxes, unlike Fistelbaum, was not in there at the finish.

As a matter of fact Xerxes wasn't in there at any point—unless it was at the five-yard pole where he held a snappy fifth position.

The cultured English voice came over the radio: "It's Nimbus, with Amour Drake second and Swallow Tail third."

A dejected Louis Leibermen flipped off the radio and put his eyes back in their sockets.

"One hundred thousand smackers down the drain. Never have I lost so much money in one morning—and before breakfast."

TEARS IT UP

And after tearing his sweep stake ticket into little pieces, he shuffled out into the bright sunlight a broken man.

As he started down the street his hoarse, cracked voice came back to The Bulletin:

"Hundred thousand? Say, Sammy, what's good in the third at the Exhibition Grounds today?"

Aly, Rita See Derby

EPSOM, Surrey Eng., June 4—Prince Aly Khan and his bride, Rita Hayworth, today saw the running of the Derby and for many hours were inconspicuous in the crowd.

The throng was intent on racing and by mid-afternoon only a few had noticed the American movie star and the prince. But the newlyweds got some good-natured cheers from persons who jammed into the paddock.

The Khan family colors cut no great figure on the race course, however. Aly started Iran, a 100 to 1 long shot, and his father, the Aga Khan, entered Hindoostan, 100 to 6. Both horses were lost somewhere in the pack that followed the winning Nimbus home.

The Aga Khan's horses have won four Derbies.

Berlin Unity Closer After Secret Meet

PARIS, June 4.—(UP)—Foreign ministers of the western Big Three met today to compare notes on their first secret discussion of Berlin with Russia and to lay their lines for continuation of the talk this afternoon.

Yesterday's secret meeting, the first closed session after 10 days of deadlock, was held in a cordial atmosphere and some progress toward re-establishing a unified Berlin was achieved.

Western delegates remained pessimistic on a general agreement, however. They said they feared Russia never will abandon completely the Berlin blockade.

CLUBBY ATMOSPHERE

Hope that some kind of agreement may come from this meeting was expressed by western representatives when they came out of the closed session yesterday.

"It was the old pre-Potsdam atmosphere—very clubby," one delegate said.

The four foreign ministers are discussing an American proposal presented by Secretary of State Dean Acheson. It calls for free elections in Berlin, establishment of a provisional government on the basis of those elections, drafting a permanent city constitution and re-establishment of the four-power Kommandatura in Berlin.

Pravda Says West To Blame

MOSCOW, June 4. — (AP) — Pravda said today that refusal by the western allies to adhere to the Potsdam agreement of 1945 for ruling Germany has stymied the Big Four meeting in Paris.

The longest Soviet press comment since the conference began, the official Communist party newspaper said Britain, France and the United States want a divided Germany and a west German state under British-American control.

The editorial, which took up a third of a page, declared that "everyone knows" the Soviet delegation has been working to achieve German unity.

The veto must remain in any four-power deliberations, the paper said, because majority decisions would mean "dictation by the west."

2 Nfld. Cabinet Members Beaten

ST. JOHN, Nfld., June 4—(CP)—Premier Joseph Smallwood will make two new appointments to the Newfoundland cabinet Wednesday, it was announced today. The appointments will fill vacancies left by two members defeated in the provincial election last week.

Narcotic Charge Laid Against Hamilton Man

HAMILTON, June 4.—(CP)—George Mihaliux, 33, of Hamilton yesterday was charged with illegal possession of narcotics and remanded until June 10. City police say they recovered a parcel containing 20 capsules of heroin that Mihaliux dropped when they chased him.

Hamilton police say they believe the arrest stemmed from activities of a Hamilton dope ring which is linked with a nation-wide chain. The RCMP last week launched an extensive drive against illicit drug sales with arrests in Toronto, Hamilton, and Vancouver.

F-51 Missing On Training Flight

LAS VEGAS, Nev., June 4—(UP)—A missing F-51 army air force pursuit plane is sought today by planes from Las Vegas air base and Hamilton Field, San Francisco.

The plane took off in a training flight of 20 planes headed for Mills Field, Ogden, Utah, yesterday but failed to return with the others when they were ordered back because of high winds.

Six Convicts Recaptured

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., June 4.—(AP)—Six of the 14 long-term convicts who escaped from West Virginia penitentiary here were recaptured today as a police net around this Ohio River area tightened.

The Ohio state highway patrol reported two of the fugitives were captured at nearby Powhatan, O.

Earlier in the day Warden Orel J. Skeen reported Dennis P. Taylor, 27, Jack Heeney, 21, Donald Wurster, 25, and Charles P. Rose, 25, were recaptured in Rosby's Rock vicinity about six miles east of here.

Suspended CSU Officials Bitter Over TLC Action

After two stormy months on strike, the Canadian Seamen's Union today is on its own—cut adrift, at least temporarily, by its parent union body and beset by the rival Seafarers' International Union, (AFL).

Heaviest setback to date for the 6,000-member union, allegedly Communist-led, came yesterday when the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada announced in Ottawa that the CSU had been suspended. The suspension will come up for review at the Congress' annual convention next September.

HARDEST BLOW

The TLC announcement was the most shattering blow for the CSU since it called the seamen's strike March 31. This came after east-coast shipowners had drawn up an agreement with the SIU which, until that time, had been inactive in Canadian deep-sea shipping circles.

Since then, developments in the bitterly-waged conflict between the two unions saw scores of CSU men abandon the union to join the SIU; outbreaks of violence; court actions in cities around the world and calling out of troops in England to unload food cargoes. Meanwhile, the SIU made progress in the manning of strike-bound ships the world over.

OFFICIALS BITTER

CSU officials in Montreal last night were bitter in their condemnation of the TLC move. They said the union membership is determined to carry on the strike, although such action now has all the earmarks of a last ditch stand.

The CSU suspension came after five days of closed meetings in Ottawa by a special meeting of the TLC executive council granted full power to consider the position of the CSU as an affiliate. The committee indicated the suspension would not have been made had some of the union executive resigned. Union officials declined to do this.

In a statement made at Montreal, CSU president Harry Davis termed the TLC action "a stab in the back against striking seamen" and "strike-breaking of the most despicable kind in trade union history."

Barbershop Nightmare Comes True

PASADENA, Calif., June 4.—(AP)—Jim Butler was wearing his hat at work yesterday and his barber was in jail charged with drunkenness.

Police gave this account:

The barber cut Butler's hair Thursday between hiccoughs and it turned out to be one of the weirdest haircuts yet.

Next the barber picked up a straight razor and wanted to shave Butler.

"That," screamed Butler, "is enough for me."

He leaped from the chair, towel and all, and hailed a nearby policeman.

Fine Weekend Forecast Here

This week-end will be fine and warm in Edmonton and throughout most of the prairies, forecasters said today. Today's high in Edmonton of 75 degrees will drop tonight to 47, and reach a maximum of 75 again tomorrow.

Little rain fell anywhere on the prairies yesterday, and although overnight temperatures in eastern Saskatchewan dropped to 30 in some places, no exceptional weather is expected at the week-end.

During the past week every weather station in the Edmonton district has reported some rain ranging in amount from a fifth of an inch to nearly two and one-half inches.

Dog Expert Aids Search

Weary searchers are calling in expert help in their hunt for Julia Schubert, 20, missing from her Bellis home since May 20.

Constable M. F. Lee, RCMP dog expert, arrived in the town Thursday from Edmonton with police dog Danny, to search for the missing woman in the bushland surrounding her home.

Other Bellis residents will hunt through the wild country on horses.

It was hoped the dog, which disappeared with Miss Schubert and returned Tuesday, would lead them to the woman. The dog has made no attempt to return to the woods.

Worst Fires Almost Out

North timber lands of the province are almost free of fire and smoke today as worst forest fires in the province's history near their end.

Only about 60 men of the original 450-man crew are still on duty in Lesser Slave Lake and Lac la Biche areas where worst fires raged uncontrolled for nearly a month.

MacKinnon Sees Win For Liberal Forces

Canadians aren't mad at the federal government, and in one respect Edmonton's staunchest Liberal, Senator James A. MacKinnon is sorry.

General public approval of government record and policies will likely send the Liberals back to Ottawa with an increased overall majority, Sen. MacKinnon believes.

But popularity of the government won't result in the kind of big Canada-wide vote the Edmonton insurance-man who became federal minister of trade and commerce would like to see.

APATHY SERIOUS

"Right now in Canada there's a serious lack of interest in the forthcoming general election; the campaign may warm up before June 27, but there aren't the reasons this time for a really big vote," Sen. MacKinnon said here today.

"To vote furiously and in great numbers, people must be disturbed about government policies, anxious about conditions, and just generally 'sore' at the government.

As Canada faces its end-of-the-month general election, government

RED CHAMBER HONORS will be conferred on famous Edmontonian, Senator James A. MacKinnon when he is formally presented to the Senate next fall. Recently elevated to senatorship, he will spend the summer in Edmonton, campaigning "just in a small way" for federal election candidates of the Liberal party which first elected him to Commons in 1935.

WATER PISTOL PACKERS RAPPED

Court Docket Plugged With Juvenile Crimes

Juvenile crime in Edmonton is continuing at such a pace that, although Juvenile Court sits every day, the docket is running more than a week behind.

"The water pistol highwaymen," apprehended several days ago, will appear in juvenile police court on Wednesday, June 8, charged under the Criminal Code.

Two complaints about other youths shooting at adults with water pistols are being investigated.

"Some pistol packers are so young they should be home with Momma," said Acting Probation Officer D. R. McNaughton. "But the highwaymen are not children; they are 17 years of age; and in spite of their childishness, they should be regarded as grown-up."

Other cases to appear next week are:

Three boys who broke into Prairie Row Manufacturing Co., Ltd., 9611 104 avenue on May 23 and were apprehended during a second attempt May 27. On the first occasion they took a case of soft drinks.

Four youths 13 years of age who were shoplifting.

Five youths, from 13 to 15 years of age, who slashed in half a valuable hose at Prince Rupert golf course.

Five boys from eight to 12 years of age who broke into a warehouse at the rear of Clifton Drug store, 11902 127 avenue. They stole two cartons of cokes each.

Yesterday Juvenile Court Judge C. F. Willis handed out severe sentences to two 17-year-old lads who stole two bicycles at Calder, May 23. They were fined $50 and $15 damages each.

Smashed school windows continue to blot the crime sheet. Two now being investigated are Separate School at Jasper Place and at Westglen High School.

Railroad Union Back in Fight

St. Laurent Assails CCF, Tory Proposals

By Canadian Press Staff Writer

Railway amalgamation, a long-standing general election issue, was tossed back into the campaign for Canada's June 27 national vote last night by Prime Minister St. Laurent.

He chose Stratford, an Ontario rail centre, to touch on Liberal policy on the amalgamation question, and said Liberals want neither the sort of railway union advocated by the CCF nor the kind the Progressive Conservatives "secretly" want.

Those who believe in the future of Canada, he added, believe railways and other transportation facilities should be maintained and improved "for the benefit of the country and our people."

COLDWELL AT FLIN FLON

As the prime minister moved deep into his Ontario campaign, George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, carried his campaign eastward across the prairies, speaking in Alberta. M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, stepped into the west with a speech at Flin Flon, Man.

Mr. St. Laurent didn't elaborate on what he thought the CCF and Progressive Conservative amalgamation policies are, but he did say he thought it "happy" for Canada that the railways weren't amalgamated "in line with the views of pre-war 'prophets of doom.'"

GARDINER RAPPED

The Liberal party feels there are certain undertakings with "monopoly" characteristics which should come under public ownership. But it doesn't favor public ownership of business as a matter of principle. It believes in giving greatest possible opportunity for genuine private and free enterprise.

Mr. Drew in his Alberta speeches launched an attack on Agriculture Minister Gardiner and said the chunky, little cabinet member is "becoming infected with the germ of regimentation." Mr. Gardiner insists upon running the country's agricultural policies without telling parliament or the people what is being done.

CCF GAINING

Mr. Coldwell looked to the future and said he saw a return to the two-party system in federal politics, with a coalition party made up of Liberals and Progressive Conservatives opposing the CCF. But the CCF party is "gaining ground" daily and he is optimistic about its prospects in the election.

MILTON BERLE

Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, over CFRN, Milton Berle will be the famous guest personality on the program "Talking To the Stars". Berle is heard regularly in his own comedy program each Wednesday at 7:00 p.m., also over CFRN.

MacKinnon Sees Liberal Win

policies and record of performances are generally receiving public approval; new Liberal leader St. Laurent has proved his popularity wherever he has visited in Canada and it looks like a clear-cut victory for the government, Sen. MacKinnon said.

ONTARIO FOCUS

Ontario — not Quebec — is the focal point of election prospects, he believes. Some gains for the Liberals are predicted in Quebec, and in western Ontario the party will likely gain a considerable number of traditionally Liberal seats held by Prog-Cons since the 1945 election.

Progressive - Conservatives will lose a substantial number of seats in Toronto and other industrial areas—some of them to the Liberals, but more to the CCF, Sen. MacKinnon speculated.

As for Alberta. It's a Liberal victory predicted. But just how many seats—and where—the Senator wouldn't say.

Le Marquand said he had been buying sweep tickets for 20 years but the most he ever won before collecting more than $15,000 in the Canadian sweep, was 25 cents in a hockey pool.

Norman Crawford, Toronto bank policeman who held an Irish ticket on Royal Forest, the favorite, said he sold half a share on his ticket, now worth $525, for $7,000. He plans to buy a new house and maybe an automobile.

Joseph Glista, 38-year-old Bradford, Ont., hotel manager, didn't fare so well. He also held an Irish ticket on the favorite, which finished fourth, but did not sell a share.

Ontario Drought Loss $5 Millions Every Day

TORONTO, June 4.—(CP)—As warm, dry weather continued, Agriculture Minister Kennedy of Ontario said last night the province is losing up to $5,000,000 every day the present drought continues.

Crops were particularly hard hit in central Ontario.

"The situation is desperately serious," said Mr. Kennedy. The area most severely affected is from Toronto and Hamilton north to Georgian Bay. Southwestern Ontario and the eastern portion of the province are not too badly off, so far.

FORMER PREMIER

Mr. Kennedy, who returned to the agriculture department after relinquishing the premiership recently to Leslie Frost, said that three days of steady rain immediately would help, but that nothing would produce a bumper crop such as last year's.

His estimate of crop losses was on total damage if no steady rain comes quickly.

"One week of this will cost us $45,000,000," he said. "We'll lose half our hay crop—$20,000,000; $10,000,000 on wheat and another $15,000,000 on oats.

Crop shortages would mean scarcity of milk for winter, and possible higher costs, he said.

NO RELIEF SEEN

Scattered thunder showers were the only relief held out by last night's weather forecast for Saturday. Continued sunny but cooler weather was the general Ontario forecast.

While no serious water shortages were reported, a number of municipalities in the Toronto area adopted conservation measures. Suburban Forest Hill village banned watering of lawns between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. Voluntary watering measures were called for in other districts.

The first plant in America to make white pine veneer is now under construction at Pulaski, Pa.

Shell color has nothing to do with the quality of eggs, according to poultry experts, though whites often sell at five to 10 cents a dozen more than browns.

MOST FOLKS marry too young anyway, in the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller, 77 and 73 respectively, 10359 82 avenue, who recently celebrated their first wedding anniversary. Both are blind. They augment small blind pension with money earned selling leather goods, like purses above, made by Mr. Miller. They seldom leave their small single-room home but, in spite of adversity, both are in good spirits and enjoy life.

Life Begins at Over 70 For Elderly Blind Pair

By STAN BURKE
Bulletin Staff Reporter

You're never too old to enjoy life.

That's the motto of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller, aged 7 7and 73 respectively, of 10359 82 avenue, who recently celebrated their wedding anniversary. Both are blind.

A year ago they occupied rooms in commercial premises on 82nd avenue.

Both were lonely.

Mrs. Miller's memory was beginning to be affected by lack of companionship, so they decided to marry.

HAD HER SIGHT

At that time, Mrs. Miller had her sight and was able to guide her husband on trips to town and exploration of the neighborhood. Now she can only distinguish between light and dark.

They only leave their small room about three times a week. Occasionally, on nice, days, they walk to a nearby bench on a street corner where they sit and enjoy the sun.

They augment their small blind pension with sale of leather goods which Mr. Miller makes and sells.

At Christmas he sells greeting cards. He sells from door to door, hiring a school boy to guide him.

The 77-year-old man used to be able to go out frequently to sell his goods, but now he is able to get out only occasionally.

LIFE NOT EASY

Life is not easy for the aged couple but they still manage to enjoy it.

There is a sparkle in Mrs. Miller's sightless eyes.

She laughs easily.

Mr. Miller came to Alberta as a homesteader in 1900, settling 30 miles south of Wetaskiwin.

He was born in Kentucky and still retains his southern drawl. Seven years ago his first wife died. He has 10 children.

GIRL TRAFFIC VICTIM FIGHTING FOR LIFE

Loretta Wilson, 10809 100 avenue, who sustained a skull fracture and multiple body bruises and cuts in a traffic accident Thursday had not yet recovered consciousness.

General hospital authorities say Miss Wilson's condition is very serious.

Driver of the truck which struck her, John F. MacDonald, 8719 99 street, appeared in court yesterday on a charge of drunken driving and illegal possession of liquor. He was remanded until June 14.

1st Wing Parade Held By City Air Cadets

No. 9 Wing, comprising three Edmonton Air Cadet Squadrons, last night received first inspection in its six-year history, during which three of the future airmen received trophies for outstanding work during the past year.

Sgt. L. C. Scott, No. 12 Sqdn., received Evert Schaufele trophy, Cpl. T. Hollingshead, 295 Sqdn., was presented with Norman Silver trophy, while Sgt. A. Campbell-Hope received Geoffrey Nightingale award during the ceremony in which Air Vice-Marshal Hugh Campbell, AOC, NWAC, made the presentations.

The youths were named by officers of the cadets as top members of the city's three squadrons.

CAMPBELL TAKES SALUTE

The inspection, carried out at North West Air Command, was conducted by the Chief Air Officer and ranking staff officers in this area.

Two-hundred-and-seventy cadets and their parents and friends attended the impressive outdoor ceremony as AVM Campbell took the salute from officers and cadets who marched past the reviewing stand.

AVM Campbell praised their standards of achievement "reached through hard work during the year."

He also congratulated members of the precision squad, under P.O. L. Scott, which gave a smart 15-minute display of drill and manual of arms.

SWIMMERS HONORED

Senior swimmers: Sgt. J. Scott, Cpl. A. Trendall, Cpl. D. MacLegan, AC1 Watson and AC1 G. Quaale.

Intermediate swimmers: AC1 N. Querengesser and AC1 B. Heidebrecht.

Junior swimmers: AC2 B. Mawson, AC2 R. Smith and AC1 E. Trischuk.

Army Chief Ends Survey

Extensive reconnaissance of the Yukon and northern British Columbia, scenes of this summer's gigantic Army and Air Force exercise "Operation Eagle", has been completed by Maj.-Gen. M. H. S. Penhale, GOC Western Command.

While there, the chief officer discussed the coming operation, which will be the largest in peacetime history, with other officers in the area.

Operation Eagle, scheduled for August, will involve thousands of men and machines of the Canadian Army and RCAF during the two-week manoeuvres.

Maj.-Gen. Penhale said a 600-mile trip along the Alaska highway north of Whitehorse revealed the road to be in excellent condition. Headquarters for the operation will be Fort St. John, B.C.

He said most preparations for mass camps will be conducted during actual field operations, and that very little preliminary work will be required.

Signs of Life All Over Alberta

Vacation Futures Are Good If the Living Stay Alive

By John McLean
Bulletin Staff Reporter

With vacation time here—or almost here—the Edmonton Safety Council has issued a warning: to save your life, heed the "signs of life."

Summer months mean more cars on the roads, congested traffic conditions everywhere. Summer months mean accidents.

Statistics released by Edmonton Safety Council reveal vacation months to be heavy in traffic fatalities. Figures for 1947, showing traffic deaths in province are:

June, 14; July, 12; August, 9; September, 10; October, 12.

These figures can be slashed if drivers will heed "the signs of life."

What are these signs of life?

WARNING SIGNS

You've seen them many times; they should be as familiar as your own right hand.

There is the round sign which warns of the approach to a railroad crossing; the oblong sign which is backed by law and which regulates speeds.

The diamond shaped sign warns you of potentially dangerous conditions directly ahead, such as curves.

The eight-sided sign means STOP. And the crossbuck also means that you're at a highway-rail crossing.

These, then, are the signs of life—your invitation to stay alive.

The "signs" provide the theme of Edmonton Safety Council's June traffic campaign.

"Our goal," says Howard Strutchbury, secretary-manager, "is to bring home to motorists the fact that traffic signs, signals, and pavement markings are installed for their protection and guidance.

"In spite of the fact traffic signs cover almost every situation the motorists or pedestrian is likely to encounter, the regularity with which they are ignored is appalling.

"Ignoring these signs is like driving with your head tucked under the dashboard—and just about as sensible," he said.

GOOD ADVICE

Joining forces with the safety council, the Alberta Motor Association comes up with this advice for vacationers:

"For that holiday trip make sure your car is in top-flight condition before starting out.

"Observe the ordinary rules of driving courtesy.

"A drowsy driver is a dangerous driver; if you feel the urge to sleep—do just that. But STOP first.

"And this goes for summer or winter: If you drink, don't drive—if you drive, don't drink."

Vacation time can be a wonderful time if you heed the signs of life.

Bar Admits Clyde Man

Williard Rorke, of Clyde, yesterday was admitted to the Alberta Bar by Hon. Mr. Justice O'Connor, of the Appeal Court.

A 1948 graduate of the University of Alberta, Mr. Rorke, for the past year has been articled to P. C. Davies, KC, of Clyde. He will continue to be associated with Mr. Davies in the practice of his profession.

Born in Winnipeg, Mr. Rorke graduated from University of Western Ontario at London with degree of BA. Following his graduation, he spent several years in England and the Far East, returning to Canada in 1937.

ROSE THROUGH RANKS

In May, 1940, he enlisted with Seaforth Highlanders at Vancouver as a private, and in 1941 received his commission upon being posted to Calgary Highlanders, going overseas in April, 1942.

He returned to Canada in March, 1945, with the rank of major, and was discharged three months later.

Mr. Rorke commenced his law studies here in 1945 and graduated last spring.

Mr. Rorke is married and has two children. An ardent Progressive Conservative, he attended the 1948 National Convention of the party at Ottawa. He is president of the P. C. association of Athabaska federal constituency.

Candidate Has Charge Withdrawn

Charge against J. M. Stone, Stony Plain councillor fizzled out yesterday and was withdrawn.

A week ago he appeared in court charged with failing to pull his car to the roadside when a siren is sounded.

At that time his request for a month's remand because he is candidate in the forthcoming federal election was refused.

Today the charge was withdrawn when it revealed that as fire marshal of West Jasper Place, Stone is not compelled to pull up. He was proceeding to the same fire as the police vehicle behind.

Pope Appoints Palestine Mission

VATICAN CITY, June 4.—(Reuters)—Pope Pius yesterday appointed a pontifical mission for Palestine under the presidency of Most Rev. Thomas McMahon of New York. The mission will look after church interests in Palestine such as holy places and consider means of helping refugees and other victims of the Palestine conflict.

High Class Auto Camps

Mayor Harry D. Ainlay and the civic administration have manifested a commendable interest, in the past, in the construction of auto camps in this district.

That interest should be continued. It should be intensified. It should be developed into a full-blown campaign for this type of tourist accommodation.

As The Edmonton Bulletin has already pointed out, a considerable volume of tourist business is diverted from Edmonton for the simple reason that Edmonton offers no place for tourists to stay.

Adequate accommodation is the first requisite for a profitable tourist business.

Until that accommodation is available, all efforts to attract visitors to Edmonton are so much wasted time and money.

This, the first and most pressing item on any Edmonton tourist program is more hotel rooms and more auto camps.

This city is going to get close to a thousand additional hotel rooms in the extension to the Macdonald and the new Glenton.

Actually, during the tourist season we need five thousand additional hotel rooms.

Auto camps offer a more immediate and less costly part solution to the problem of shortage where tourists are concerned.

They do not replace hotels. But they supplement hotels.

There is one thing the city should bear in mind.

Investors are not going to build auto camps in this area if they are forced to go into the more outskirts of the city.

There is, for instance, plenty of room along Kingsway for several auto camps.

And if they are built to the new standard of comfort and beauty that prevails throughout the United States, they can be a real asset to the attractiveness of any neighborhood in which they are located.

Plain Uneasiness Underlies French Social Structure

PARIS.—On our last day in Paris, on this first visit, for we are coming back later, we met up with friends from our own home town.

They treated us to a grand meal on the left bank of the river and really showed us the sights.

It was a grand relief from that chaining.

We had a personally conducted tour by one who really got to know his way around this famous city in the recent war.

French Politics

Later on I shall be writing about French politics. But here are odds and ends of impressions and notes made this last week.

There is probably no other city in the world where so many people take pains, pride or joy in preparing and eating food.

One reason they are able to do so is because the producer and consumer come together in Paris to a greater degree than anywhere else (except perhaps on the farmers' market in Hamilton, Ont.)

There are dozens of open-air markets.

You can still see hundreds of French farmers' horse-drawn wagons loaded with produce for sale.

And you can still see throngs of women and men buying the stuff personally.

France seems to me to be basically better off than Britain because of this simple fact.

She can produce most of what she actually needs to eat.

She doesn't have to buy so much from the outside world, as Britain must.

Hence governments may come and go, and systems wax and wane, but the solid basis of France is still there.

There are still many experts who believe that France will go Communist in the next 10 years.

I don't know about that. But I would bet plenty that—even if France goes Communist—certain features of French life will go on.

And if there is any people on earth more individualistic than the French are—I haven't found them.

Reforms Failed

I made a point of inquiring about one reform attempted by the Coalition government of which the Communists were the major party.

They had the laudable idea of abolishing the houses of prostitution—which occupy a whole district here.

The Communists also tried to abolish those curious sidewalk urinals for men, which are everywhere.

It just wouldn't work, at least at this stage of history.

As you travel through the rich French farm country you get an impression of earthly strength—like that of a tree.

In the cities, too, the unique close connection between farm and town spells strength.

But one cannot mistake the meaning of the crowds of police that one sees in Paris.

You see more French policemen in one square in certain times of day than you will see in a Canadian big city in a week.

And you must have to see these French police handle one big crowd to sense the underlying uneasiness in French social structure.

Good Will Between East and West

It is hardly to be expected that all the differences between Eastern Canada and Western Canada will be ironed out by a junket of Eastern businessmen through the West in the merry month of July.

No one believes that two special trains full of Toronto and Montreal executives on holiday will produce such a condition of East-West amity that the two ends of the country will sob out their protestations of friendship and understanding on one another's breasts.

But while this goodwill expedition, which reaches Edmonton on July 14, will effect no miracles, it does establish a new high in sectional relationships.

The very fact that such a trip is being made at all is remarkable in itself in that it indicates a consciousness of the West in the East that at one time did not exist at all.

It is a literal fact, although hard to believe, that the fathers of many of these men who are taking this goodwill trip were among those who resolutely refused to believe that anything but utter darkness existed beyond the most westerly suburb of Toronto.

It was, of course, this obdurate conviction that the uttermost wall of the world could be discerned just west of Weston that promoted most of the sectionalism and East-West hostility in Canada.

For how could the East deal on equal terms with the West when the former maintained through thick and thin that there was "no sich animile" as the latter?

And how could the West entertain any great love and admiration for the East when the former was conscious that the latter regarded it as atrocious myth on the remote horizon of reality?

Obvibusly, then, this eastern expedition into the fastnesses of the West is a rather astonishing concession.

For it is a cheering admission amazing after all these years, that a place called the West does exist and is populated by flesh and blood people who live, breathe, marry and give in marriage and pursue the elusive dollar with the same zeal and zest as can be witnessed any day in Montreal or Toronto.

Beginning of the Christian Church

Tomorrow is Whitsunday, the Christian counterpart of the Jewish feast of Pentecost. It celebrates the occasion upon which the Holy Ghost descended upon the apostles and it marks, in one sense, the beginning of the Christian Church.

Whitsunday is the halfway mark in the Church year.

The first half of the year presents Christ to the world through the agency of His human body. The second half, upon which we enter tomorrow, presents Christ in His continuous ministry through His mystical body, the Christian Church.

As was pointed out in this space last Saturday, the Ascension of our Lord and the tremendous events of Whitsun ten days later, are inseparable in significance.

As the late Bishop Wilson said, God lives in eternity while we live in time.

There would have been little point to Christ's work of redemption if it had applied only to this world, because some day this world will come to an end. But God's work never ends.

And the life of the Christian never ends because the promises of our Lord carried over from time into eternity.

Jesus Christ ascended into heaven because He had completed the work He came into the world to do. He had trained His apostles to carry it forward. Then He left them to return to the spiritual realm from which He had come, bearing the fruits of His incarnation with Him.

One must think of the Church as something more than a purely earthly organization. It is a divine society of all the faithful, living and dead, and Christ reigns in Person over the Church Triumphant in heaven, just as the Holy Ghost directs and inspires the Church Militant here in earth.

Whitsunday celebrates the birthday of the Church Militant, that is to say, the earthly Church.

The story of the beginning of that branch of the Church is told vividly by St. Luke in the second chapter of the Acts of the apostles.

"But the Comforter", Christ had said, "which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in My place, He shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you."

Whitsunday, then, celebrates the coming of the Holy Ghost to the Church Militant, which is Christ's body.

Everyone should read in the Acts the wonderful story of that event.

ODDS AND ENDS

By Harold L. Weir

Conscience Dictates New Duty Towards the Insane

Anyone who feels, as I do, that civilization can be measured in its consciousness of a duty towards the insane, must be highly encouraged by the new interest manifested all over the continent in the treatment of mental illness.

WEIR

Not so many years ago, insanity was regarded by the public generally as something to be hushed up.

When mental disease occured in a family of wealth, every effort was made to keep the disgrace a secret.

When it occurred in a family of modest circumstances, the sufferer was sent to an asylum and dropped into oblivion just as an embarrassing prisoner might be made to disappear in the oubliette of a continental castle.

The care of the insane was no more than custodial care. Mental institutions were no more than places where an inconvenience could be deposited and forgotten.

No attempt was made to cure. No attempt was made to treat.

Castor oil was given to the ill, straitjackets to the suicidally depressed and paraldehyde to the violent.

There was nothing else.

Bygone Horrors

But even this crude and expedient care was an infinite improvement over the horrible and despicable treatment accorded the insane in the dark and middle ages and even late in the last century.

There was Bedlam, for instance, an institution founded in 1247 and functioning in later years in what is now the Limehouse district of London.

Bedlam is a corruption of Bethlehem or, as some think, of Belle Dame, each derivation being repellently inept.

Insane and feeble-minded persons were shipped naked to Bedlam in coffin-like crates, with holes bored for air, by wagon from all parts of England in all kinds of weather.

They were exhibited to the public at admission fee of one shilling or less.

And young blades varied the monotony of carousing in taverns by going to torment the lunatics on dull afternoons.

The inmates were lashed, secured to death, when they naturally became excited or violent.

There are incidents recounted of suicidal depressives being permitted to destroy themselves before an audience of gallants who laid bets. God forgive them, on the time it would take for the hopeless wretches to die.

Such were the horrors of Bedlam which still cause the hair to rise on the neck of persons who pass that dreadful and unhallowed spot even to this day.

Modern Methods

The treatment of the insane is not perfect yet. In some places it is still backward and even cruel.

But in others, notably in Alberta, it is miraculously improved.

There have been recent press articles about the use of new drugs and electric and insulin shock for the treatment of certain types of mental disease.

These are not unknown in Alberta mental hospitals.

Both electric and insulin shock are commonly used with excellent results.

In Oliver, for instance, insulin has worked amazingly well on schizophrenics.

With manic-depressives, electric shock has curtailed the depressive period and sometimes postponed it indefinitely.

In Oliver, the general health of patients is excellent, only five major operations being found necessary in 1946.

Administrative officers encourage, wherever possible, the free contact of patients with the public as long as the rights and dignity of the patients are maintained.

Last year, Oliver admitted some 300 new patients. Approximately 270 were discharged as cured.

There is no better record in the world for the curative treatment of the insane.

Modern Thinking

As I said, there is a new, kindly intelligent public interest in the welfare of the mentally ill.

Insanity is no longer a disgrace.

It is an ailment as appendicitis is an ailment.

And enlightened people no longer mention the occurrence of insanity as a reproach to the patient or to his family.

I can think of no social advance in this century more wholesome and blessed than this.

Letters to the Editor

Ignorance Apalling

Editor, Bulletin—Regarding an article written by your Harold L. Weir, under date of May 31, May I express my sentiments?

It is rather pitiful to think in this day and age newspapers are so hard pressed for individuals to write articles for them that they accept, and print, such trash as Mr. Weir's "Weep for the Tragedy of the Whooping Crane."

When one ceases to marvel at, and admire our feathered friends, I think the following slang slang phrase most fitting, "You're over the hill." Mr. Weir apparently is so wrapped up in his own little world he never takes time out to realize how essential wild life is, besides being one of God's creations.

By comparing the whooping crane with an arch-deacon Mr. Weir has proved he was not only missing from school, he has missed all his teachings. A more fitting heading would be "Weep for Harold L. Weir."

I imagine Mr. Weir puffs and snorts getting his articles ready for press, returns homes, removes his shoes, sits down and gloats over his previous article that appeared in print.

Mr. Weir admits he knows very little about the whooping crane. I would say he knows very little about anything. His ignorance is appalling, or does he consider it smart?

In one paragraph he says, and I quote, "I love to think of the whooping crane as a lighsome bird with a darting eye, a bit unsteady on the wing and addicted to hiccoughs."

Funny, but that's how I would picture Mr. Weir, except instead of hiccoughs he's full of wind.

Mr. Weir does a pretty, good job of ridiculing the Naturalist. Wonder if he has ever stopped to ponder that they, like himself, must eat. The Naturalist earns an honest living by watching birds, whereas Mr. Weir does his best to stuff people.

Radio Speech

Editor, Bulletin—We are concerned about the errors in the English language that we hear over the radio—cowboy songs and plays, mystery plays, character actor programs, etc.

To the child, the radio has become an authority. He has known it as long as he has known his parents.

The public school teacher (without mentioning the colossal task of the high school English teacher) must be frantic, sometimes trying to teach the pupils the correct use of "was" and "were", like the words "morning" and "going" have a "g" as a last letter, that "yeah" is not the proper word for an affirmative answer, and so on.

One is appalled when one considers what will have crept into the English language in 10 or 20 years. Even now, one hears people commence a conversation thus: "Lookit, was you . . .?" And in a high School class room today the teacher explained a problem and a student said, "Come again?"

Some years ago, James Truslow Adams, an American critic of contemporary civilization, wrote an essay, "The Mucker Pose", on the use of the English language. A university student, when asked what he thought about a certain experiment, replied, "Hot dog!" But the college students really knew how to express their thoughts much better. Their attitude was called that of a "mucker poseur".

Today, it does not seem to be a pose to make mistakes in speaking, generally. But children are learning to talk that way every day unless the parent and the teacher can overcome the radio influence.

The radio can be a wonderful medium for education. We enjoy the good plays, the symphony concerts, the operas. But—

Stop That Spitting!

Editor, Bulletin—Is the use of a handkerchief no longer a requisite of decency?

The other day a woman turned the street corner just as a well-dressed pedestrian spat on the street, barely missing her. Then, just in front of one of the large hotels, a well-dressed woman spat on the street.

On the score of cleanliness, health and civic respectability, it should be made an offence punishable by a fine.

The city is anxious to attract tourists, but dirty streets and filthy habits are not likely to increase that trade.

Pagan Origin

Editor, Bulletin—Mr. Cook's letter re Princess Margaret's visit to the Pope was edited to the point. Especially was it so in regard to the Roman Catholic hierarchy's attitude toward non-Catholics.

There are, however, one or two points that Mr. Cook has overlooked. Would it be rude to ask what major difference is there between Protestantism and Catholicism? Both teach the mysterious trinity doctrine. Both believe in a hell of fiery torment. Both follow the pagan philosophy of immortality of the human soul, etc.

Consequently if Catholicism is of the devil because of the doctrines she teaches what is Protestantism when it teaches the same thing? Obviously both have the same origin and this by their own admission.

Protestantism teaches fundamentally the same thing as Catholicism and Catholic writers make no bones about the fact that their doctrines are not Scriptural but pagan. One has only to read Cardinal Newman's Essay on the Development of Christian Doctrine to determine that.

(Pages 355, 371, 373, Edition of 1881.)

Just after admitting that the Catholic religion has done well to "transmute the very instruments and appendages of demonworship to an evangelical use" he enumerates a long list of things done and used in both Protestant and Catholic religions. Then he winds up by saying "all are of pagan origin, and sanctified by their adoption into the Church."

Honest Catholics and Protestants should not be led astray by the farcical and diversified doctrines of religion, no matter what brand. When religion darkens counsel by sugarcoated verbage and oily, hail-toned expressions people who love the light of truth will turn to the Holy Bible and say along with the prophet-psalmist David "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path".

French Anthem

Editor, Bulletin—The interesting little "Scotland" magazine of April contained a bit of wit which I thought might be worth mentioning:

"Lunching at the same table with a French journalist, a London office colleague was told of the new spirit now discernable in France as a result of improved economic conditions.

"We even have a New National Anthem" declared the Frenchman, "La Marshall-aid."

Shocked By CBC

Editor, Bulletin.—Thousands of Canadian radio listeners are probably wondering like I am if we pay a $2.50 license fee to listen to immoral trash like that broadcast on Stage 49 on Sunday, May 22.

The radio play, "Hilda Morgan," written by Lister Sinclair, was nothing but a glorification of the extra-marital relations of a young school teacher. For an hour the usually capable CBC actors labored through the dilemma in which Miss Morgan found herself after her lover was killed in a traffic accident.

A free and frank discussion of a $500 illegal operation was only one of the more shocking incidents in the production. It is no secret that such problems are all too common, but do we have to have them brought into our homes to the detriment of our children?

I'm sure that neither the BBC nor any American network would have the gall to insult their listeners like this.

Proposes Northern Railway

Editor, Bulletin—Mr. Page Ridecuts commented on the possibility of a third transcontinental railway across the northern part of Canada and the Peace are very interesting.

As you are probably aware there has been a movement for some time to get recognition for the greater use of Fort Churchill as a point of entry and outlet for prairie products.

The facts are that there are only a few short gaps in present railway lines across the northern part of Saskatchewan and Alberta and Northern B.C. to complete a third transcontinental railway. These gaps total a mileage of around 535 miles.

The La Pas Railway from Fort Churchill via Winnipeg is connected with Meadow Lake in Saskatchewan—From there it is only a short distance to Lac La Biche on the NARy. From Lac La Biche another gap exists to Smith on the NARy. From there the railway runs through to Peerless Lake Creek or Hines Creek. If this line was extended via Hudson's Hope and Findlay Forks to Hazelton it would connect with the Canadian National Railway through to Prince Rupert. This part is the major gap.

Prince Rupert is a port which deserves better recognition than it has had in the past. It is equal, if not superior to Vancouver in harbor accommodation and is twenty-four hours steaming nearer the Orient on what is known as the Grand Circle route. Incidentally the railway line, if completed would be 1,000 miles shorter than the two present transcontinental railways.

Canada has never had a better chance of getting a third transcontinental railway at low cost. Perhaps $25 or $30 millions would complete it.

Such a line would without a doubt furnish plenty of business to a railway. The same condition exists as was in existence in the west when the CPR was first built. A new empire of natural resources is laying there untouched and only awaiting enough vision on the part of Canadians to overcome any opposition that may exist to its completion.

Naturally Montreal and Vancouver will not look with favor on a line which would cut distances by 1000 miles of rails and shorten the Pacific route by at least 24 hours steaming.

Looking Backward

1889—60 Years Ago

Commenting on an article in the Hamilton Spectator the Manitoba Free Press says: "Down about Hamilton they have been accustomed to think that the Niagara peninsula was the garden of Canada. In matter of size it would answer very well as a garden for the Edmonton district, although much less rich and productive. That this region, capable itself of sustaining some millions of population, will one day become of great account as a factor in the general prosperity of the Dominion, there is no manner of reason to doubt."

1899—50 Years Ago

Robertson Hall is being painted.

The Steamer Minnow has come up from the Fort.

The town census which was completed by C. A. Lowe, on Saturday was disappointing. It places the population of Edmonton at 1,195 souls. The district has to grow much more quickly if Edmonton is to increase in size.

1909—40 Years Ago

Grading of the street car line to the packing plant is almost completed.

Work is progressing on the new Edmonton court house under contractor R. J. Manson.

The 101 Fusiliers, headed by the city band, paraded the streets last night when they made a splendid appearance on their first turn out.

1919—30 Years Ago

This was a bad day for the Bolsheviki in Winnipeg. Three thousand returned soldiers marched through the streets to the parliament buildings and the city hall to announce their intentions to uphold law and order and constitutional authority.

Winnipeg Strike committee has called out the employes of the few restaurants which were opened during the last week and all are again closed.

1929—20 Years Ago

May this year was the driest since 1898. The precipitation amounted to only .65 of one inch.

Premier Stanley Baldwin, whose government was defeated in the general elections, will resign immediately.

Calgary: Reaching levels not exceeded since the disastrous flood of 1902, the Bow River overflowed and flooded parts of the city and low areas in the surrounding country.

1939—10 Years Ago

A full public investigation of the sinking of the submarine Thetis with the loss of 99 lives was announced in the British House of Commons today by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain.

Canada's 18th parliament has concluded its fourth session perhaps last session. Members of the House of Commons and the Senate wrote a finish to five months of work with a Saturday night prorogation and left for their homes with the possibility that an election would be held before the year is out.

From Today's News

By Dewitt Mackenzie

The political campaign for Britain's next general election, which is due a year hence but might be precipitated earlier, already is under way and is getting hot.

It's a historic battle in which Britain's first outright Socialist government is fighting to retain the leadership which it wrested from the long-reigning Conservatives in 1945. Former prime minister Churchill again is leading the charge of the Conservative brigade.

The London Daily Herald—organ of the Labor Party—is angry with Mr. Churchill, accusing him of imputing that under the Socialists the Empire is being thrown away. The paper maintains that the Empire has been strengthened by such acts of the present government as the granting of independence to India, Pakistan and Burma.

This isn't the first time Churchill has attacked the Socialists along the imperial line. One of his fiercest assaults was made back in December, 1946, in the House of Commons when Prime Minister Attlee announced steps to expedite self-government in Burma. Churchill charged the government with undue haste "in divesting ourselves of the great possessions of the British Crown," and added:

"This haste is appalling. Scuttle is the only word that can be applied to what, spread over a number of years, would be a healthy constitutional process."

The world won't soon forget one of Churchill's most noted lines in defence of Empire, delivered in a speech while he was war-time prime minister in 1942:

"I have not become the King's first minister in order to preside over the liquidation of the British Empire."

It is noted that Churchill has not attacked the policy of granting independence to countries like India and Burma, but rather has opposed haste.

Trivia

On May 18th, the 121st anniversary of the death of Captain George Vancouver—whose name is perpetuated in the largest city of British Columbia—Commonwealth representatives laid flowers on his grave at Petersham, Surrey. The Canadian flag was flown from the churchyard mast. Lt.-Col. H. F. E. Smith, Industrial and Trade Representative in London for British Columbia, Mr. W. H. Kitson, Agent General for Western Australia were among the Canadian representatives present. Wild flowers brought in ice from Western Australia were laid on the grave. Captain Vancouver—1757-1798—served with Captain Cook on two of his voyages, later led exploring expeditions to Western Australia, New Zealand and the Northwest coast of North America and circumnavigated the island later known as Vancouver Island.

PLYMOUTH, England—(CP)—The navy received complaints of Women's Royal Naval Service personnel lingering over "good-nights" with their boy-friends in the square awaiting transports back to camp. So a Wren Petty Officer was stationed in the square to break every long farewell embraces.

Leprosy Upswing Noted In Britain

LONDON, June 4.—(CP)—There is more leprosy in Britain today than there has been for centuries, says Dr. Gordon Ryrie. Dr. Ryrie, medical secretary to the British Empire Leprosy Relief Association, says about 60 cases are detectable in Britain and the number is increasing fast enough to cause concern. Since the war it has doubled.

Terrier Halts Recess

LONDON—(CP)— After a dog nipped a child's hand in a school playground in North Lond, play was cancelled, 300 infants were confined to classrooms and two policemen in protective clothing were called to catch the "mad dog." The culprit proved to be a docile 14-inch-long terrier.

Drivers Undergo Tough Training

Safety Keynotes Business Of Vast Greyhound System

Greyhound Drivers' safety records are very important to Greyhound because public goodwill is the keynote of its business. Passengers must feel they will be safe; and the driving public, who shares the highways with Greyhound drivers, must feel safe near them.

Particularly today every driver has a solemn duty to uphold his safety record and reputation. Accordingly, Greyhound is very interested in selection and training of the men who are to take their place behind the wheel of a Greyhound bus.

Men who qualify for careers as Greyhound bus drivers must meet certain physical and mental requirements. Fundamental purpose of any selection procedure is to assure that only those adequately fitted to perform the job are chosen as candidates for training.

ANALYSIS MADE

Greyhound has made an anlysis of the duties and responsibilities of a bus driver, and from this, the basic qualities essential to proper job performance have been determined and set down.

This selection procedure is one in which the company first selects a relatively large group of persons who meet certain broad qualifying standards, then selects on basis of tests a smaller group having especially desired traits. They finally select from a small group of acceptable candidates the ones with the best prospects of being the most satisfactory bus drivers.

EVALUATION

From a review of the record (known as a "guided interview") and information accumulated, and an evaluation of this man during the selection procedure, we find that he is: a reasonably honest person, reliable in handling funds, polite and well behaved and in general a man with high morals "in the sense that he will be considered a credit to the company."

A good man with his hands, eyes and feet, well coordinated, one who learns to do motor tasks readily and accurately.

A healthy man of average strength and size.

A man who appears to want to work and is willing to perform a day's work properly, a conscientious man with initiative.

A man who meets emergencies well, with a sense of humor and one seldom disturbed by petty annoyances and monotony. A man with a sense of responsibility, a person with a realistic approach to his own problems, not a dreamer or a visionary.

A well-groomed person, with a pleasing manner and a quiet voice. A friendly and co-operative employee.

Driver candidates who meet the preceeding requirements are then given an intensive training program. This program, finest in the bus history, is supervised by the safety department, and instruction is given by veteran drivers.

Upon successful completion of this training program the candidate is ready to begin his career as a Greyhound driver, one of the most respected jobs in the transportation industry.

DEFENSIVE OPERATION

A Greyhound driver's main job is to safely carry his passengers to their destinations. To do this job, a driver must operate "defensively" at all times. He must make allowances for the private car operator who sometimes gives little thought to safety.

There is no right-of-way privilege for the Greyhound driver. He cannot assume the other driver will stop at an intersection, or that he will make a proper turn. It is inexcusable neglect of duty for a Greyhound driver to depend on the other person doing what is right. There is no way of knowing whether the other driver is careful or careless, whether he has good brakes or bad, whether he is an experienced driver or a beginner.

The Greyhound driver must keep his bus under complete control, and he must be able to stop should the other vehicle fail to do so.

Britain's tobacco bill in 1948 came to £43,000,000.

Christian Science

"Know ye that the Lord he Is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture." (Psalms 100:3). "Immortal spiritual man alone represents the truth of creation." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 263). These passages are illustrative of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in Christian Science churches. The subject is, "God the Only Cause and Creator."

Evangelist Will Speak Here Sunday

John Ferguson has recently returned from an extended trip throughout 10 countries of Europe, where he closely observed conditions in each country and spoke before large audiences in Germany, Italy, Switzerland, France and other countries of Europe.

Mr. Ferguson directs a worldwide work of publishing and distribution of Gospel literature in 25 different languages from his headquarters in Detroit, Mich. He will preach at Gospel Temple on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

For years he has been also working with United States army chaplains, supplying the literature to them both here and abroad. He is in closest touch with missionary work in every continent and has a thrilling message.

Also, on his recent trip he took excellent colored pictures which will be shown in connection with the message.

WESTERN CANADIAN GREYHOUND LINES.

MARCUS DOW safety trophy won by Western Canadian Greyhound Lines in 1948 is proudly inspected by Owen Blake, left, terminal manager for company, and Norman H. Williams, district superintendent. Company took award over all other of bus company's lines.

Win Safety Award

Marcus Dow Award is a safety incentive put up by Greyhound Corporation for competition among its 18 operating companies.

It is awarded to the company showing greatest improvement in its safety record over the preceding year. It becomes permanent property of the company that wins it three times.

The trophy was named after Marcus Dow, who spent more than 30 years of unceasing effort in the interests of safety. During these years he was an executive on safety for New York Central Lines, Police Department New York City and the National Safety Council.

During this time he had the pleasure of seeing his ideas fulfilled in the almost unbelievable safety record set time and again by drivers under his jurisdiction. He initiated safety contests among regions, and had much to do with the present system of safety awards.

The Marcus Dow Trophy was won by Western Canadian Greyhound Lines for 1948. This means that its drivers have demonstrated through their performance on the highway that they were best on the North American continent.

SPACIOUS waiting room of Edmonton's new bus depot is a thing of beauty. With many thousands of square feet of space, waiting passengers will have all facilities at finger tips as they stopover between buses. Lobby is well lighted and pleasingly decorated, adding gracious touch to new structure.

Smart New Bus Terminal Opens on 20th Birthday

Opening of this ultra-modern bus terminal comes during 20th anniversary of Western Canadian Greyhound Lines . . . whose service in Edmonton began in 1929.

Easily ranking as one of the nation's newest, most attractive and complete bus travel centres, it adds more facilities to Edmonton's growing transportation needs.

Located at corner of 102nd Street and 102nd Avenue (opposite Eaton's), handy to shopping, theatre, hotel and night club district, the new Union Bus Depot provides greatest convenience for hundreds of tourists, visitors, shoppers and business people arriving here daily. The terminal will be open approximately 18 hours daily.

Outside, the building is gracefully low, decorated with walls of highly polished black granite, topped with white Indiana limestone and finished with stainless metal trim.

A striking feature is the main entrance, with its glass doors curved vitrolite facade and large Greyhound motif. The facade is from ground level to top of building. On the far side, note the individual "saw-tooth" loading ramps. On the avenue, smart stores occupy one wall, a restaurant the other.

The pleasingly modernistic design of the central waiting room—flanked by smart shops, restaurant, travel bureau, ticket office and baggage room—is an innovation in interior arrangement. The polished terrazo floor with five foot dado of the same material around the walls is offset by softly tinted walls and ceilings, all illuminated by the most modern fluorescent lighting.

Year round comfort is assured by latest air-conditioning systems (a separate system for the restaurant-grill) and a complete automatic heating system which provides controlled warmth in winter.

Central waiting room is furnished with new chrome pipe chairs grouped in units of three.

CONVENIENT AIDS

Experienced ticket agents will help travellers arrange trips over the best routes and at the most convenient departure times. An attractive setting for this friendly service is provided by a battery of ticket booths, handily located in the central waiting room.

Adjacent to the ticket office is a smart travel bureau where trained experts are at your service. They will welcome the opportunity of helping travellers plan carefree vacation trips.

Known as expense-paid highway tours, they are complete with transportation, hotels, sight-seeing, stop-overs and itinerary all planned and arranged in advance to any point in Canada, the United States and Mexico served by Greyhound Lines. These arrangements, together with colorful literature and friendly vacation advice, will be cheerfully furnished without cost or obligation.

Completely decorated and finished in sanitary tile, rest rooms for both men and women are clean and well-appointed. Ladies lounge is particularly luxurious with comfortable chairs, vanity mirrors, and the most modern lounge equipment.

COVERED AREAWAY

A specially designed baggage room, located just off loading concourse, but facing into the waiting room, gives added efficiency to prompt handling and safety of baggage.

There is ample space for incoming and outgoing buses in the lighted, covered areaway which is part of west and north sides of the terminal. Buses enter from the corner of 102nd avenue, use staggered parking while unloading and loading passengers, and leave by 102nd street.

A striking feature is the "saw-tooth" loading ramps which enable passengers to step directly into the bus.

Immediately to the left of the main entrance is Edmonton's newest and finest restaurant-grill. Completely air-conditioned and cheerfully decorated it offers most attractive surroundings, good food at reasonable prices, and quick service for passengers and shoppers.

No expense has been spared to make this the most efficient and luxurious coffee shop in town. Near the entrance is a complete tobacco and confectionery counter.

BEAUTY PARLOR

Downstairs near the rest rooms and ladies' lounge is an up-to-date barbershop and beauty parlor as an added convenience for passengers and visitors to the terminal.

To the left of the travel bureau is a booth containing telephones and telegraph service.

In addition to Western Canadian Greyhound Lines, the new terminal will be used by eight other transportation companies, including:

Canadian Coachways Ltd., Northland Arrow Lines, Tomahawk Bus Line, Sunburst Motor Coaches Ltd., Beverley Bus Lines, Blue Goose Lines, Western Motor Coach, Highway Transport.

Together, they will make a total of 96 arrivals and departures daily at the new terminal . . . providing frequent, convenient and economical service to all points in Alberta from this central location.

Senator Connally Colorful Figure of U.S. Senate

By George Ronald

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(CP)—Tom Connally looks and acts like a senator from the Deep South. But the big, pink-cheeked Texan is not the old-fashioned, bluffing "Dixie statesman" of cartoon and fable.

Some call him crusty and indiscreet but none doubts his integrity or his studied, efficient performance as chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee.

His trademarks are a big cigar, a black bow-tie, wavy white hair and a biting tongue. All these things—except that his hair wasn't always white—have been a part of the Capital Hill scenery since 1918, when he was elected to the House of Representatives.

Connally, who made the jump to the Senate in 1929, has been in Washington ever since. The Democratic party's unchallenged leader in foreign policy, he is always in full command as chairman of his committee.

The committee was hearing Wallace's testimony about the North Atlantic Treaty. The 12-country pact, said Wallace, might make Russia "turn on Europe like a cornered beast."

"Did you say 'corned beef?'" Connally asked.

Wallace said later he didn't know what happened in Czechslovakia when the Communists took over.

"You knew Vishinsky was there?" Connally asked.

"Yes," said Wallace. "I understand he was there for a few days taking the cure.

"Yeah, he took the cure all right," said Connally, "but he gave it to the Czechs!"

He applies this same outspoken method in every phase of his never-ending campaign for a strong, bipartisan foreign policy. For instance, he sparked the Senate's overwhelming ratification of the United Nations charter.

He rumbled a grim reminder of the late President Wilson's hopes for a peace-preserving world organization.

"They know the League of Nations was slaughtered here in this chamber," he roared. Then, swinging his arm in a great arc: "Can't you see the blood?—There it is on the wall!"

Connally talks the same language as President Truman in foreign-policy matters. But he is anything but a dyed-in-the-wool "party man." During the last two years, he voted with the administration on less than 55 per cent of its proposals.

Henry Wallace is an example of how Connally works.

Greyhound Enjoys Top Safety Mark

Pioneer Bus Line Offers Extensive Travel Facilities

Western Canadian Greyhound Lines, an Alberta incorporated company, was founded by George B. Fay, now president of the company. Service in Edmonton began in May, 1929, with two trips daily between Edmonton and Calgary.

That same year it was expanded to Cardston, and daily service between Nelson and Trail, B.C. Today, the company's operations include frequent daily schedules between Winnipeg and Vancouver, Edmonton and Lethbridge, and Prince George through the Cariboo to Yarrott.

Routes are so varied that a passenger contemplating a trip from Winnipeg to Vancouver has a choice of a dozen different routes.

96 DAILY

From Edmonton, Greyhound coaches now make: Seven round trips daily to Red Deer; six round trips daily to Calgary; three round trips daily to Winnipeg via Calgary and Regina; two round trips daily to Winnipeg via Saskatoon, and two round trips daily to Edson (and Summer service to Jasper).

At the new terminal, Greyhound Coaches will make 40 arrivals and departures daily. Total for all lines using terminal—96 daily.

Among principals of the company, it is interesting to note the number of Edmontonians:

R. L. "Bob" Borden, assistant general manager.

Lorne Frizell, general manager of maintenance and operation.

W. H. "Bill" Morgan, general traffic manager.

H. K. "Pat" Williams, general manager safety and claims.

H. B. DeWynter, regional superintendent, central division.

Norman Lord, superintendent Regina, Saskatchewan.

Floyd Mogen, chief clerk-traffic.

Also well-known in Edmonton are: C. G. "Gerry" Brown, superintendent with H.Q. in Vancouver, and Grant Smith, regional superintendent of eastern division with H.Q. in Winnipeg.

RELATIVELY NEW

Greyhound is relatively new . . . both as a company, and as a medium of travel. Its rapid growth is due to a vigorous policy of continued expansion and improvement of facilities . . . to serve the travelling public with the utmost comfort, convenience and economy. The opening of the new terminal in Edmonton, together with the new Banff terminal and improvements in many places, is a part of this policy.

Greyhound fills an indispensable need, not only in Edmonton, but in hundreds of communities within its trading area. By linking these communities together, it has contributed to their individual growth and prosperity.

Business men, teachers and students as well as the general public appreciate the fact that in many places the only public transportation serving them is Greyhound. In fact, approximately 2,000,000 people bought tickets for trips in Western Canada last year.

1,200 TICKETS DAILY

In Edmonton alone, as many as 1,200 Greyhound tickets are purchased daily. In winter, nearly 20,000 a month are sold . . . rising to 40,000 a month in the peak travel season of July and August.

Revenue of the company stays in the west and "plowed back" into: Payroll for about 500 employes, taxes, license fees, upwards of 2,000,000 gallons of gasoline a year, and oil, tires, buildings (terminals, depots and other properties).

Greyhound Courier Coaches are built in Winnipeg. They are the most modern of any in Canada and comparable to the best in service anywhere in North America. They are air and sound-conditioned.

Seats are 5-way adjustable, all-foam rubber cushioned and smartly upholstered. Motor is isolated from passenger compartment . . . placed at rear to eliminate noise and fumes. Springs are torque-tube suspended and rubber mounted to give smoother, shockless ride.

Greyhound enjoys highest safety record of any transportation operation in North America. Year after year, its drivers receive safety awards from the National Safety Council, as well as badges, pins and watches from the Company for various periods of unbroken safety records.

Drivers undergo many aptitude, intelligence, health and personality tests before acceptance as "skippers" for Greyhound. Upon acceptance, they are given an extensive period of training before being entrusted with a $35,000 Coach and the safety and well-being of its passengers.

Through the facilities of Greyhound Highway Tours Inc., many American tourists will pass through Edmonton and the terminal each year. Greyhound is perhaps the only company that offers transportation to anywhere in the North American continent, all on one ticket.

Magistrate Says War Declared

WINNIPEG, June 4.—(CP)—Sections of Winnipeg youth have declared war on city police, Magistrate M. H. Garton said in court here yesterday, when passing sentence on two youths in connection with disorderly conduct.

Harry Diduck and Myros Laschko each were fined $50 or 30 days in jail for their part in a free-for-all May 29 with police in front of a north-end snack shop.

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SUNDAY, JUNE 5, 1949.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—An encouraging, interesting setup for this June Sunday. You who must work, you who have trying problems, smile and carry on. If you have faith in God and enjoy liberty, YOU'RE LUCKY!

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Today is liriful of strong, benefic vibrations, but we are advised not to be selfish nor to spend time on pointless things. After attending spiritual duties, enjoy a health-giving recreation.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Your Mercury and several other planets in high good aspects. When you have much for which to be thankful, that IS the time to think of those less fortunate, to help them. Happy going!

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—You can and should feel buoyant, hopeful, ambitious this stimulating Sunday. Whatever your plans, see that they include devotion to God and respect for health. Time says for work, play.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Don't permit unhappy thoughts or selfish motives to cloud your day. Thank our Creator for all His blessings and pray for those in troubled lands; go forth to enjoy your day and make others happy.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Tip-top influences for artistic matters, hobbies, sports, plan domestic and other less attractive duties. Enjoy religious services and other wholesome activity that suits you.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Advice to Cancer stands here today. Only admonition for all of us is not to be wrongly aggressive, irritable. Be patient with those whose health or troubles make them cantankerous.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Mars only planet today that stresses need for a genial disposition, cheerful outlook. Other planets in excellent mood promise a happy, interesting time for all who think, act rightly.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Jupiter rul, which implies it is not advisable to carry on unnecessary money or business deals. It is Sunday: enjoy your church, some wholesome diversion, or just rest.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Essential duties are favored. Pray, rest, enjoy your pet sport or hobby so long as it does not offend God or right living. Today is encouraging, helpful for worthy things.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—A cheery outlook for today, but don't indulge extreme in anything. Go to church, relax, work in your garden at a pleasant hobby. Enjoy the truly good things in life.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—No "clouds" to darken your spirit. Be ambitious; enjoy only wholesome interests. Fine period for writing, reading, music, pleasant relaxation. Remember God and family and you'll enjoy your day.

YOU BORN TODAY: A gay, versatile, usually unworried somebody. Like the pleasures to be had in life, yet will ably shoulder corresponding obligations. Learn to be patient, to go below the surface of things in order to properly understand the Why's and Wherefore's of necessary details and thoughtful planning before full success can be assured. You have much talent, personality and cleverness—use these rightly and you will achieve. Be loyal, consistent in effort and don't scatter your energy or efforts in too many directions. Pray always. Birthdate: Adam Smith, noted economist.

FOR MONDAY, JUNE 6, 1949.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—The very practical and essential favored now. More care and patience needed in mental work, domestic and other personal matters. Be constructive, don't indulge ill-temper. Industrial work gains.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Your Venus and Mercury (inauspicious aspects) advise extra caution in mental work; how you approach customers, superiors; all personal conduct. Other matters favored and can gain.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Exuberance, impetuosity must be toned down to a productive, constructive pace. Thought necessary before making changes, decisions. Incurring obligations. Gains are possible in work.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Self-control important. You'll need calm and intelligent judgment in business deals, meeting competitors, customers —in all transactions. Fine day for all practical measure, hard work.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Friendly day on whole, but there are cautions about overspending, promising what you may not be able to carry through. Keep usefully busy, don't neglect essentials and all can be well.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Not wholly auspicious, especially for personal gain, but you can achieve in work and wholesome activities in general. Extra care urged in written matters, contracts, spending, buying.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—You may find finishing incompleted matters, checking work previously done and preparing for new undertakings more advantageous now than starting new projects. A day for wise caution.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Carefully plan day's schedule and be equanimit in carrying it through. Don't worry if you cannot make always aims. Very often sound preparations and detail work is the more important.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Business transactions requiring outlay of money, signing contracts are among the important issues to be very carefully handled. Much constructive work can be done; laborious tasks favored.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Your Saturn's position now gives you an edge on most of us. You should get ahead nicely with personal matters and accustomed daily duties. Have care spending, making promises.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Steer your craft cautiously through this rather nil day. Let your action be guided by demands of your personal obligations. Keen sensibly to essential matters and don't worry.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—You are in the same boat as Aquarius today. You will likely find mechanics, industrial workers, domestic help and all workers more favored than the purely artistic or mental pursuits.

YOU BORN TODAY: Imaginative, quick, always on the go. As a rule generous and cheerful. But you can be a strict disciplinarian and may find fault with others while at same time ignoring your own shortcomings. You have too many fine qualities to permit these hindering faults to have the upper hand. Search your soul for the truth and ask God's help in all daily matters. These are advantageous days for clever and versatile Gemini natives. Turn restlessness into constructive initiative. Birthdate: Pierre Corneille, French poet, dramatist; John A. Roebling, American engineer, designer of Brooklyn Bridge; Nathan Hale, American patriot.

Bus Depot Staff Has Experience

Well Versed in Travel Is Boast of Officials

Staff of key men, well versed in the travelling world, will direct operations of the new Union Bus Depot.

Chief of staff is Norman Williams, superintendent of the Edmonton district who has been in the transportation business since 1933.

Born in Vermilion in 1911, Mr. Williams joined Midland Bus Lines in 1933 as a driver. He was in Saskatoon in 1938 when Greyhound took over the Midland Lines and has been with the company since that time.

He remained in Saskatoon until November, 1943, after which he spent 11 months on the Alaska highway, and returned to Saskatoon.

HERE IN '47

Mr. Williams came to Edmonton in 1947. As district superintendent he has jurisdiction over all Northern Alberta.

Owen Blake, manager of the Edmonton terminal, joined the Greyhound company as ticket agent in Lethbridge in 1937.

His experience includes time in Calgary, Brandon and Winnipeg, where he served as district passenger agent. He returned to Brandon in 1942 as depot manager and came to Edmonton in June, 1945, as district manager.

Wilfred Garding, shop foreman, is in charge of seven men in the garage, whose work is keeping on the road the huge, $25,000 buses that leave the depot each day. Coaches are inspected every 1,000 miles, re-checked again after 5,000 miles and overhauled after the 30,000 mark.

Senior ticket agent in the entire system is Marjorie Lawson, whose pleasant job it is to arrange holiday trips and sell long-distance tickets. Miss Lawson entered the transportation world in 1935 when she joined the staff of Manitoba Motor Transit in Brandon. She entered the ranks of Greyhound in Winnipeg in 1937 and spent eight years in Regina and four months in Calgary with the company.

Edmonton branch of the company obtained her services two years ago.

Wooden Ice Box Death Trap For 3

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark., June 4 —(AP)—A wooden ice box became a death trap for three young children yesterday. Mrs. Ed. Chastain, mother of two of the victims, found the youngsters when she returned home. They had been left to play while she chopped cotton in a nearby field.

Police said the children were wedged tightly together in a small compartment of the refrigerator. A preliminary autopsy showed the children died of suffocation.

Paper bags are now used for packing more than 60 per cent of all bakery flour.

Soft lights, enormous windows and specially devised acoustics make customer consideration a specialty in this glitter spotless minute coffee shop for weary travellers.

Owner Mickey Conti, is a well-known figure in Edmonton restaurant circles, with 20 years of experience behind him.

When he moved to the new depot Mickey installed completely new equipment, from a basement walk in refrigerator, to salt and pepper shakers.

The coffee shop proper will seat 60 hungry persons in chrome and leatherette booths and chrome U-shaped counters.

A staff of 22 girls will be working in shifts arranged for fast service in rush hours.

Head man in the kitchen will be Frank Cappello, restaurateur of 20 years standing and old time partner of Mr Conti.

CHIEF CHEF

Directing a staff of six, Mr Cappello will be chief chef, operating in white shirt and white apron. Specialty in Mickey's will be chili con carne.

Six cans of chili beans are on their way from Mexico right now, boasts chef Cappello proudly. "People in Edmonton have never had real chili like this before."

The coffee shop will serve a full line of restaurant food, light lunches, snacks and dinners.

The basement below the lunch counter houses lockers and washrooms for the staffers, and complete, new butcher shop equipment.

The shop is ventilated with an air conditian system separate from the terminal, and all kitchen fumes will be drawn off before they can enter the coffee shop.

Modern surroundings, good service and excellent food will be available to travellers to and through Edmonton when Mickey's coffee shop opens on Monday morning.

Revolt in Turkey Said Soviet Plan

Agents Sent In To Stir Up Rebellion In Kurdish Tribes

By Menno Duerksen

ISTANBUL, Turkey, June 4.—(UP)—Russians are sending in agents to stir up activity for Kurdish rebellion and independence in eastern Turkey, it is reported here.

The reports come from reliable intelligence sources who have had recent contacts with the Kurdish tribes and confirm diplomatic advices reaching Washington.

The sources here said the Russian agents usually Kurds themselves, can infiltrate the Kurdish regions of eastern Turkey with comparative ease because it is "some of the wildest territory in the world."

They further say that such Russian agents are meeting with some success simply because they are appealing to one of the greatest weaknesses of the mountain Kurd: his fierce, possessive love for a rifle.

PATROLLING DIFFICULT

Officials familiar with the region around Lake Van in Turkey, Tebriz in Iran and the Azrbaijan section of Russia, say that to patrol the borders here successfully, it "would require one soldier every three feet."

Kurdish mountain tribes know this area so well that they pay absolutely no attention to borders, border patrols or international regulations.

Migratory by nature and tradition, many of the Kurds move in entire tribal units across Russian, Turkish, Iranian and Iraqi borders at will even under 1949 conditions, often taking their herds and flocks of sheeps, cattle and horses with them.

Any attempt by a handful of border patrols to halt such movements would be suicide, for the Kurds are superb rifle marksmen as well as canny mountaineers.

RIFLES ARE BAIT

It is often said that a Kurdish mountaineer loves his rifle more than his own children and it is this weakness the Russiaan agents exploit, for the Kurds have not been able to replace worn out rifles for years. They have got no guns from the Turks who, on the contrary, have tried to tame the Kurds and make farmers out of them.

The Russians have thus trained agents from their own Kurdish tribes to send across those indefinable borders to stir up talk of a "Kurdish Republic," of independence and rebellion, using new rifles for bait.

The dream of a Kurdish republic has appealed to certain of the Kurdish tribesmen for years when they resented living under the rule of various governments and armies which have swept back and forth across their lands.

Most of the estimated 9,000,000 Kurds now live in the general area where the boundaries of Russia, Turkey, Iran and Iraq meet.

Kurdish experts here say that the Russians are operating on the theory that they themselves have little to fear from the Kurds, even if a potential rebellion might backfire and the Kurds start shooting at Russians.

PROBLEM FOR TURKS

Turkey and Iran, on the other hand, are much smaller countries, and troublesome, rebellious tribes could be much greater potential danger to them.

If the Turks were forced to send troops into the mountains to keep order or subdue a rebellion, the fighting could always spread across those "indefinable" borders and give the Russians pretext for almost any sort of action, especially since the Kurdish peoples are so intermixed across the border.

400 Pupils Take Part In Elk Point Festival

ELK POINT, June 4.—Under the sponsorship of the Elk Point Sub-Local ATA, a very successful festival was held in which over 400 students participated. Schools participating were Elk Point (5 rooms), Heinsburg (3 rooms), Spring Park, Middle Creek, Pleasant Dale, Muriel and Veeday.

The festival was divided into several groups on a non-competitive basis: recitations, choral recitations, plays, group instrumentals, group singing, solos, duets, trios, quartettes, action songs and folk dancing and physical education.

Displays of school work were arranged on large bulletin boards in the various school rooms in Elk Point. These rooms were open to the public until 1:00 p.m. The afternoon program consisted of an audition of the various items entered by each school.

A selection of various items was made for presentation at the evening program at which residents of the district were invited to attend.

The program opened with a group singing selection, Brahm's Lullaby presented by Pleasant Dale Schools; The Leprauchaun, an action song by Elk Point primary room followed and Elizabeth Pokaluk of Heinsburg primary recited "The Swing," a quartette by students of Veeday School, Muriel school choral recitation and two choruses, Findlandia and the Texas Cowboy were sung by students of Elk Point High School.

A folk dance, The Irish Lilt was danced by students of Pleasant Dale school; a play, King Richard Comes to Sherwood, was presented by Elk Point elementary and Pleasant Dale school offered an instrumental selection Glistening Stars.

A tonette selection Whispering Hope was performed by Middle Creek school, a quartet The Blackbirds was sung by Muriel School, a play Child Psychology was presented by Spring Park school and a choral song, Green for the Mountain Side was sung by Heinsburg Intermediate and High School.

A song Galway Bay by Caroline Chomiack of Middle Creek school, and "On the Spot," a play, was presented by Elk Point intermediate school. The program concluded with a demonstration of Pyramid Building by Physical Education 1 students of Elk Point high school.

Mrs. E. A. Bullis, in commenting on the singing praised the students for their efforts and commended them for the high quality of their work. Mrs. L. E. Edwards offered varied suggestions as to how the music instrumental selections could be improved, and encouraged more students to enter in this class.

E. A. Bullis reviewed the dramatic selections, offering suggestions for improvement, and R. E. Beattie, in commenting on the elocution, advised the students as to what should be avoided and what should be done in reciting properly.

J. V. Jacobson praised the high quality of the enterprise and other displays of school work and expressed the hope that in other festivals more rural schools would participate. R. Racette, superintendent of schools, expressed general satisfaction with the entire festival and saw the possibility of these becoming better as teachers and pupils had more experience with this line of work, and more contact with the work done by other schools.

J. V. Jacobson acted as chairman of the afternoon's program, and R. E. Beattie of the evening's concert.

COMPACT STACK OF JACK under plastic bubble is mere $1,000,000. It's on display at a Waukesha, Wis., bank. Needless to say, extra guards are on duty to protect it.

On The Farm

By Pat McVean

This week western farmers killed a 62-year-old dragon.

Using the long spear of co-operative action they fatally crippled the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Trade Minister Howe announced that after Aug. 1 all grains except rye and flax will be marketed by the Canadian Wheat Board, a circumstance which will virtually wipe out the speculaters' grain market.

Actually, the announcement was more than mere public notice of government policy; it was the obituary of the grain growers' dragon, which they believed had menaced for years their chances of security of farm life and stability of farm prices.

It has been argued, of course, that to the trade, and indeed to some farmers, the Exchange was not the traitor but rather the heroic soldier in the battle of private enterprise.

★ ★ ★

But, whether it was dragon or valiant, the Grain Exchange, by its very end, must be remembered as a tribute to the determination of western farmers.

It collapsed only because it was struck by the strong weapon of co-operation which farmers learned to use and to use well nearly half a century ago.

At that time it was the elevator monopoly rather than the Grain Exchange at which the farmers of the west aimed.

Though the Manitoba Grain Act provided that farmers would be permitted to load their grain onwards from platforms into freight cars and thus short circuit the elevators, a shortage of freight cars in 1901 put them at the mercy of elevator companies.

Farmers complained, and in many cases with just cause, that they were being charged excessive dockage and were receiving short weights and unfair grades and prices.

★ ★ ★

They were rugged individualists, these settlers of nearly 50 years ago, and co-operation came hard to them, but they decided there was only one solution to the wheat blockade grain: the formation of a farmers' organization which would market the products of all its members.

That organization was the Territorial Grain Growers' Association, probably the first farmers' co-operative in the British Empire.

It went on to win the fight against the elevator monopoly.

When legal tangles threatened to cripple it by shutting of farmers' trade in the Winnipeg pit, the farmer directors of the organization put up their own $25,000 to buy a seat on the Exchange.

Later the association became known as United Grain Growers Ltd., and still later it assisted in the formation of the now-powerful wheat pools of the prairie provinces.

But the real triumph of the Territorial Grain Growers' Association was not its eventful success, but rather its example of the strength of co-operative action.

★ ★ ★

Post-war farmers used the same principles which made the pioneer association a success when they attacked the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Their co-operative groups and their farm organizations such as the Farmers' Union of Alberta, the Wheat Pools, and the Canadian Federation of Agriculture presented a united, Canada-wide battle in opposing the Exchange.

Their victory is well deserved.

RED DEER HOUSING SITE IS APPROVED

RED DEER, June 4.—The City of Red Deer had word this week from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation approving the site which the city had selected for 50 new wartime houses. The houses will be built on 51st and 51A street between 40th and 42nd avenue on Michener Hill. They will be the second unit to be built in Red Deer by the corporation. Construction will be started as soon as possible.

The corporation has allotted eight more houses at the former A20 Army Training Centre where a unit of 50 is being built. The latest applicants to get new homes were Dr. W. A. Carter, R. T. Bond, R. McMullen, R. N. Lynch, M. Sawyer, K. Olsen, H. Bohn and W. Ramage. This makes 41 houses occupied now and the remaining nine will be completed and allotted this month.

UNION BUS DEPOT

1. QUALITY
PEERLESS QUALITY raises above all others . . . because it is refined from better crudes . . . with the latest scientific knowledge known to the oil industry . . . and because PEERLESS, and only PEERLESS, IS ALLOYED.

2. PERFORMANCE
PEERLESS PERFORMANCE improves engine performance. No matter how high the temperature PEERLESS won't "thin out" . . . will provide maximum compression seal at all times . . . resulting in greater power and greatly improved oil mileage.

3. ECONOMY
PEERLESS ECONOMY starts with better lubrication . . . follows through by keeping motor costs down and giving your motor longer and longer life. PEERLESS is the all-season, all-temperature, expense reducer because it reduces the cause of many motor failures.

To improve Peerless Motor Oil and give it stamina to stand up longer under a wider range of temperatures, an "alloy" is added which forms a protective film around each metal-to-metal thus eliminating breakdown. "It's alloyed".

Welsh Service Is Planned

Following the traditional Welsh custom of holding special services during Whitsuntide, the "Cymry" of Edmonton will attend a service at All Saints' Cathedral on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. About 32 years have elapsed since the last entirely Welsh service was held at the Cathedral and Sunday's service will afford the Welsh people of Edmonton an opportunity to sing praises to God in the mother-tongue, to the accompaniment of well-known tunes such as "Aberystwyth," "From Rhondda" and "Hyfrydol".

Rev. J. E. Williams who has recently come from Wales to All Saints', will deliver an address on "Early Christianity in Britain with reference to the work of St. David."

Thanks are due to the president and members of the Society of St. David for making the necessary arrangements for this service, and to Mr. Vernon Barford, MA., LCCO. for presiding at the organ.

CARLOADINGS AGAIN DROP

OTTAWA, June 4.—(CP)—Carloadings continued their downward trend during the week ended May 28 to 66,163 cars from 73,550 cars for the previous week and 69,698 cars a year ago, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday.

Main recessions were in pulpwood, livestock, ores, coke, woodpulp and paper, while gains over the similar week last year was shown in grain, coal, gasoline and petroleum.

Livestock

EDMONTON, June 4.—Total receipts for this week: Cattle 1,651, calves 295, hogs 2,015, sheep 32.

Trading on the Edmonton cattle market for the past week was active, with prices fully steady to firm, and slightly higher in spots. Moderate receipts consisted of a good percentage of well finished cattle which were in strong demand. Packer buyers displayed a keen interest in this week's better quality cattle and were quite competitive in filling their orders. Commission men were also carrying some sizeable outside orders and were ready to absorb any lots that didn't sell at firm values. An active demand on the part of all buyers advanced prices slightly on good to choice steers, with moderately heavy choice steers rating the most difference.

One load of outstanding choice steers, weighing 1,140 lbs., topped the market at 22.35 for the feature sale of the week. Several lots of choice yearling steers changed ownership at 22.25. Bulk sales of good to choice steers ranged 21.00-22.00.

Heifers shared in the week's strong trade to sell firm under fairly lenient grading. Good to choice traded 19.50-21.00. Cows were strong throughout but settled with an advance of .50 per cwt. towards the close of the week. Good light butcher cows sold 16.50-17.00, and good heavy cows 16.00-16.50. Bulls were fully steady with best weighty bologna 16.00-19.00, odd extreme tops 19.25.

Stockers and feeders are in fairly good demand, good feeder steers 17.00-19.00, breedy short keeps up to 20.00, good stocker steers 17.00-18.00. Stock heifers 13.00-16.00 and stock cows 11.00-14.00.

Hogs opened the market with an advance of .50 per cwt. and held steady for the balance of the week, grade A for shipment 31.00, grade A at local plants 29.50. Sows liveweight on yards 18.00, feeder hogs 22.00-26.00.

There were insufficient lambs on offer to make a market. Salesmen were quoting steady values of 22.00-24.00 for any good feed lot lambs, and a small premium on early spring lambs.

Following are the quotations:

Choice fed calves	21.25 to 22.25
Choice steers	21.75 to 22.25
Good steers	21.00 to 21.75
Medium steers	19.50 to 20.50
Common steers	16.50 to 18.50
Choice heifers	20.00 to 21.00
Good heifers	19.00 to 20.00
Medium heifers	17.50 to 18.50
Common heifers	14.00 to 16.00
Good light cows	16.50 to 17.00
Good heavy cows	16.00 to 16.50
Medium cows	14.25 to 15.50
Medium cows	13.00 to 14.00
Canners and cutters	9.00 to 12.50
Bulls	14.00 to 19.00

Security Markets Reach Low Levels

Break Worst in 15 Months; AP 60-Stock Index at 60.3

TORONTO, June 4.—(CP)—Stock markets this week were pushed down to the lowest price level in more than a year. A sharp burst of selling pressure Tuesday sent prices reeling backwards after months of narrow movments.

The market had been puttering along in a narrow range for some time. Obeservers had termed the market "confusing" and some predicted an upward movement in late spring and early summer.

The predictions were not confirmed. Instead, the market broke out of its narrow path in the least expected way.

Six successively easier sessions paved the way for Tuesday's sharp setback. The market previously bucked slow, steady selling pressure and after a slow start Tuesday, quickly picked up speed to decline sharply.

The break in New York was the worst since the post-election setback. In Toronto, it was the hardest since March 16, 1948.

Stability returned to Wall Street Wednesday and Thursday when bargain hunters provided some buying support. Attractive yields on many well-balanced stocks attracted buying as a slight recovery movement got under way.

Gentle selling pressure pushed New York slightly lower yesterday, and the decline was enough to shove the price level to a 15-month low. The Associated Press 60-stock average declined .4 yesterday to 60.3, the lowest since Feb. 10, 1948 and within striking distance of the 1945 low point.

Wheat Prices Move Ahead

CHICAGO, June 4. — (CP) — Wheat prices moved ahead today after a hesitant start on the Board of Trade. The July contract led the advance, which extended to around a cent at times. Other cereals held steady, but did not show as much strength as wheat.

Chief reason for the advance in wheat, dealers said, was a firm trend for the cash articles throughout the country. In particular, spring wheat was strong at Minneapolis. It was felt mills were anxious to get good quality grain because rains were causing quality deterioration in the southwest.

Wheat closed ¼-¾ higher, corn was unchanged to ½ higher, oats were ⅛-⅜ higher, rye was ½ to 1 cent higher, soybeans were ¾ lower to ¼ higher, and lard was 8 cents lower to 3 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Wheat: July, 188n-½; Sept., 1.89⅝-½; Dec., 1.91⅞-¾; Mar., 188⅝.

Corn: July, 1.29⅜-⅞; Sept., 1.23⅞; Dec., 1.13⅝-¾; Mar., 1.15.

Oats: July 57¾; Sep., 57½; Dec., 58⅞.

Rye: July, 133⅜; Sep., 1.35⅛.

Soybeans: July, 2.17½-¾; Nov., 1.99¼-½; Dec., 1.99.

Cash wheat, none. Corn, No. 2 yellow, 1.34⁺-¾. Oats, No. 1 heavy mixed, 63½-¾. Barley, malting, 1.08¼-½, nominal.

Production Still Soaring

OTTAWA, June 4.—(CP)—Canadian production of crude petroleum and natural gas continued to soar in March and the former hit an all-time high of 1,748,400 barrels, in the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday.

This was more than double the March, 1948, output of 816,500 barrels and compared with the previous peak of 1,443,000 in February. Output for the first quarter was 4,547,900 barrels compared with 2,373,900 in the first three months of last year.

Alberta accounted for 1,651,000 barrels in March compared with 709,100 a year earlier. Leduc's output rose sharply to 860,300 barrels from 173,300, Redwater to 300,800 barrels from nil, and Lloydminster to 48,900 barrels from 34,700. Crude output from Turner Valley dropped to 347,000 barrels against 402,000.

The month's output from wells in Saskatchewan amounted to 59,300 barrels compared with 56,700 a year ago, Ontario 19,400 barrels compared with 12,000, New Brunswick 1,650 (1,700), and North West Territories 17,100 (37,000).

During March 5,896,500,000 cubic feet of natural gas were produced as compared with 7,127,400,000 the preceding month and 6,070,600,000 in the corresponding month of 1948. Output in Alberta totalled 4,981,800,000 cubic feet compared with 6,233,500,000 a month earlier; and Saskatchewan, 53,000,000 (43,200,000).

Construction Contracts Top $100 Million

TORONTO, June 4.—(CP)—Construction contracts in Canada topped the $100,000,000 mark for the third time in history in May, says MacLean Building Reports, Ltd.

At $105,952,700, however, they were $53,962,800 under last May's record.

Volume for the first five months is $386,450,500, which is $37,250,000 above the same period last year.

May is traditionally the heaviest month of the year for construction contracts.

All classifications showed drops compared with last May, and Ontario and Quebec were both down. The Maritimes showed a very slight gain, and the west was ahead, with the inclusion of a $10,000,000 contract for a hydro-electric development at Pine Falls, Man.

Figures for May, with May of last year in brackets, were:

Housing, $48,167,600 ($51,769,800); business, $30,312,000 ($33,916,500); industrial, $4,109,000 ($8,307,600); engineering, $23,364,100 ($45,921,600).

By regions: Western, $37,206,300, up $6,250,000; Ontario, $34,552,200, down $19,200,000; Quebec, $28,250,400, down $22,000,000; Maritimes, $5,943,800, up $18,000.

The Pine Falls, Man., hydro project will cost $20,000,000, of which about one-half is for construction and the rest for equipment.

World Wheat Outlook Better

OTTAWA, June 4.—(CP)—Prospects of an increased world supply of wheat were shown during the last month, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday in its monthly review of the wheat situation.

The last crop report of the United States agriculture department placed the current winter wheat crop there at 1,021,000,000 bushels and indicated that with average yields on the prospective spring wheat acreage, a total wheat crop of 1,312,000,000 bushels could be harvested.

Barley Leads Upturn For Grain Futures

WINNIPEG, June 4.—(CP)—Coarse grain prices displayed a firm trend, particularly in July barley, on light offerings and modest shipper demand in moderately active trade today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Export houses also were good buyers in barley.

Rye prices responded to upturns of rye on the Chicago market, with good local and commission house demand appearing. American selling came out in early trade, but offerings were well absorbed. Flax dealings were dull, with the July contract unchanged.

In the export business reported, 350,000 bushels of Canadian wheat were allocated to the United Kingdom under the long term agreement, while Switzerland was credited with taking another 400,000 bushels.

Class two wheat prices remained unchanged from yesterday at $2.06.

EAC Puck Stock Soars With Rimstad as Coach

Officials of the Edmonton Athletic club turned the clock back 26 years last night with the announcement that Morey Rimstad will coach EAC in the Western Canada Junior Hockey league next winter.

It was in 1923-24 that Rimstad first gained prominence as a player with EAC. That was the season the Clubmen lost out in the Memorial Cup final to Toronto St. Mike's.

Since then Rimstad has chased pucks with St. Louis Flyers and Edmonton Flyers. His return to the EAC's as coach pretty well turns the wheel full circle.

Rimstad accepted a three-year contract with the club. He will keep in shape for playing and will line up with the Flyers when his coaching commitments don't interfere.

In discussing prospects for the 1949-50 season, president H. L. (Budd) Williamson disclosed that EAC require four imports—a goalkeeper, a defenseman, and two centre leemen. Otherwise the club is ready and raring to go.

The EAC president also disclosed that his organization expects to outlay $20,000 for first season's operations. Included in the expenses will be $2,200 in guarantees to visiting teams and $2,800 for travelling. Something like $6,000 will be allocated to a budget for travelling costs.

Al Anderson, former president of the organization, revealed that EAC had favored one team from Edmonton entering the WCJHL. However, Maple Leafs, the other local team in the league, turned thumbs down on the idea.

"We favored one team," said Anderson. "But Leafs wouldn't go for the idea unless their sponsor, Jim Christianson, could use the team as a means of advertisement for his automobile products. And we didn't want any one organization to profit from the combined undertaking."

Williamson and Anderson both made their statements at an informal meeting of the EAC executive with members of press and radio. Leo LeClerc and Jim Coburn of the EAC hockey directorate also attended the confab.

Ice Hockey Moguls to 'Sell' Game

NEW YORK, June 4.—(CP)—A tripie-barrelled publicity campaign will be started shortly to sell Canadian hockey, the dominion's biggest national sport.

This "coals-to-Newcastle" twist developed yesterday at the meeting of professional and amateur leagues —and the pros and amateurs saw eye to eye on the idea.

A committee of three, composed of the presidents of the National Hockey league, Canadian Amateur Hockey association and the North American president—or a direct representative—of the International ice hockey confederation, has been named to sell the game to the Canadian and American public.

Specifically, the publicity board was instructed to "plan and develop a positive statement and hockey objectives for a vigorous presentation to the public."

Board was set up at a meeting of pro and amateur leaders, a side issue at the 52nd annual meeting of the CAHA.

President Clarence Campbell of the NHL; Al Pickard, president of the CAHA; and Dr. Gerald Hardy, Edmonton, of the IIHF, the three board members, will meet here Sunday to draft initial battle plans.

Buffaloes Derail Cub Runaway, Win 5-2

CALGARY, June 4—(CP)—Calgary's lowly Buffaloes last night took the measure of the lofty Edmonton Cubs 5-2 at Buffalo Stadium before 1,400 fans as the two teams opened a four-game stand that may have a pronounced effect on the standings.

Lloyd Bradley, ace of the Buffalo hurling staff, was credited with a smart victory as he limited Cubs to six safe hits and set down 13 batters by the strikeout route. He got away to a blazing start, fanning six of the first eight batters who faced him.

Vern Callihan, on the Edmonton mound, gave up nine hits and struck out a trio of batters.

Buffs, led by playing-manager Jim Forsyth, who poled out a home run with the bases empty in the first inning, stepped ahead early. Bill Gadsby, who drew a base on balls, then followed Forsyth around the sacks on Jim Gibson's two-bagger and an outfield error. Forsyth's long fly brought Babe Work home in the second and bingles by Gibson and Work, plus a miscue at second base, scored the former in the sixth.

Callihan put Cubs in the scoring in the seventh when his single scored Anderson who had reached first on a force-out. A base on balls to Gil O'Connor and Chet Dobosh's single scored the other Cub run in the eighth.

Lefty Belter Leaves Hospital

Ed Belter, Eskimo hurler who suffered concussion when he fell off a roof while painting on Thursday, left the hospital last night. Dr Dotson said the starry left hander would be ready to pitch early next week.

Other local baseball news last night included the 'case' of Off Superstein. 'Soup' as he is known to friends, who was previously on the reserve list of the Cubs, has been dropped, thus becoming a free agent.

He failed to come to terms with Yakimos last night, however.

Lacombe Blasts Red Deer By 8-3

RED DEER, June 4—Lacombe scuttled Red Deer 8-3 in a Central Alberta baseball league contest played here last night.

The locals got away to a three-run lead in the opening inning, failed the cross the plate again. Jim Fleming, Lacombe's first baseman, smashed out a home run in the fifth with one aboard. He also connected for a triple and a double.

Service and Dagg each hit a double for the homegers.

Shearer Powers Legions' Victory

Sparked by the solid socking of first baseman Jack Shearer, South Side Legion knocked off Pruchams 12-7 in a South Edmonton Intermediate 'A' Men's Fastball league game last night.

Shearer pounded out a homer, triple and single in three times at bat and scored three times as well. Chuck Sheehan and Johnny Pearl also hit for the circuit in the Legion cause.

For Pruchams Roy Stewart's two-run round tripper was the big blow, just one of three hits he banged out in four trips to the plate.

Next action is Sunday at 3 p.m. with Co-op's slated to battle Gazes.

Barr Favored To Cop Amateur

Annual Alberta amateur golf championship comes up for decision at the Calgary Country club three weeks from tomorrow, June 23 to be exact, and off what happened last year Duane Barr, of the southern city, must be rated as favorite to win the crown.

Barr knocked off Burns Martell of Edmonton in the 1948 final at the Mayfair course here.

It is expected that a large contingent of Edmonton golfers will go south for the Sunday tournament. Selection of the Willingdon cup team which will play for the Canadian inter-provincial championship at St. John, N.B., this summer, will be made on Monday, June 27.

PARIS, June 4.—(AP) — King of Belgium, playing under the name of Monsieur Deretl, won his first match in the International Golf championships of France on the Saint-Cloud links yesterday.

He defeated Bernard Fussieu of France, 2 and 1.

CANADIANS THE VICTIMS

Clarke's Potent Stick Powers A's 15-0 Win

It won't be denied, as Johnny Clarke, powerful South Side Athletics' custodian of the hot corner, is the best hitter in the Junior Baseball league today.

Of course, Doug Kilburn, plucky 5.5. shortstop, isn't doing badly either. But whenever Clarke, who turned up at the San Francisco Seals' training camp during the spring, ambles to the plate coach Marvin Miller's only thought is "will it be a single or what?"

The 20-year-old Clarke was his usual self last night as the redhot Strathcona ambassadors to the loop drove the hapless Canadians to shelter with a thumping 15-0 victory.

Clarke connected for a three-run homer in the fourth inning, and four singles, driving six runs across in five times with the hickory. You can't do much better than that, huh.

The aforementioned Kilburn went in big-league fashion, too. Only the masterful hitting of Clarke overshadowing his performance. He, too, had a five-for-five record—four singles and a screaming triple.

Don Crough had it when it came to whiffing Canadian batsmen. He limited the cellar-dwellers to seven well-scattered hits, was never in trouble of any color. He walked but one, and got seven via the strike-out route.

It wasn't Marshall Bevern's night. The starting Canadian chucker was nicked for a 'bushel' of hits and 14 runs before Bailey came to his aid in the fifth. However, Bailey didn't last long either, giving way to Meredith in the sixth.

'Sour' Tribe Swap Paying Dividends

NEW YORK, June 4—(CP)—It's beginning to look as if the Cleveland Indians' front office staff weren't making such a mistake after all when they gave three players to Washington for pitcher Early Wynn and first-baseman Mickey Vernon.

Wynn and Vernon combined yesterday to lead the American league Cleveland club to an 8-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Wynn went the route to garner his third victory in the last two weeks. Vernon homered in the first inning with one mate aboard to salt away the game.

FANS HOWLED

The two Senator castoffs came to the Indians last December in a swap for pitchers Ed Klieman and Joe Haynes and first baseman Eddie Robinson. Haynes and Robinson showed well for the Senators in the early weeks of the season, and the Cleveland fans howled with rage when Wynn and Vernon flopped dismally.

But Vernon has won more than a few games recently for the late-starting Indians through timely hits, and Wynn has started to come through with a few wins to take up some of the slack left by the failure of Bobby Feller to come through as expected.

Meanwhile, lefty Hal Newhouser stopped the Philadelphia A's with eight hits as the Detroit Tigers took a 4-3 decision for a sweep of their three-game American league series.

In the National, the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2 to salvage the third game of a three-game series. Gil Hodges' homer sparked a four-run seventh-inning rally for the Dodgers.

GIANTS WIN, TOO

New York Giants kept pace with the Dodgers by ripping into the Chicago Cubs for a 15-5 triumph. Sid Gordon paced the Giant attack with a homer, double, and single, driving home four runs.

Philadelphia Phillies and the Cincinnati Reds split a double-header to stay tied for fifth place in the league standings. Reds won the opener 3-2, but the Phils bounced back here accounts 3-2 as Andy Seminick drove home two runs with a first-inning single.

At St. Louis, the Washington Senators combined 14 hits with five St. Louis errors to overwhelm the hapless Browns 13-2.

In a marathon night game at Chicago, the league-leading New York Yankees cashed five unearned runs on two errors by veteran shortstop Luke Appling to defeat the White Sox 9-8 in an American league encounter. Game took three hours and 28 minutes to complete.

MERCURYS CONSIDERED AS TEAM TO EUROPE

Jimmy Graham's Waterloo Mercurys, western Canada intermediate hockey champs, will be considered as a CAHA-sponsored team to be sent to Europe next winter.

A motion by Alberta that the Edmonton team should be considered was carried at the CAHA meeting in New York yesterday.

Art Potter, Edmonton, vice-president of the Alberta Hockey association, is attending the confab.

Wrong-Way Esks Drop Out of Sight

Purityx Drop Locals To Bottom Of League With 12-6 Triumph

In the matter of reversing their field those Eskimos of manager Ralph Morgan have done it up brown, as the saying goes.

Last night at Renfrew Park, while general-manager and paymaster John Ducey agonized from the press-box, last season's Big Four league champions absorbed a lidy 12-6 shellacking at the hands of Calgary Purityx.

Result elevated the visitors into a first place tie with Les Edwards' Cubs, the other local entry in Sam Irwin's four team loop. At the same time the Esks tumbled ever nearer the league basement.

And not that the Morgannen need MUCH to put them back on the glory trail again. As GM Ducey stated it afterwards: "We need a hard-hitting outfielder, a coupla pitchers and possibly a shortstop."

YAK, YAK AND YAK

Morgan put it a little differently. "Who's going t'pitch tomorrow?" he repeated a question. "You mean who's going t'start?"

Just whether or not Junior league graduate Len Karlson, who has been operating at short for the deflated kingpins, has what it takes to play in the swifter inter-city loop still is a matter of speculation.

Fact that the whole club has bogged down hasn't made it any easier on the young fellow, particularly as he's trying to fill the big shoes of Frank Gonzales, all-star at the post a year back.

As though by way of capping a stretch of indifferent play that has seen them lose nine decision in 10 trips to the gate, Esks blew a four run lead while going under to Purityx last night.

Scratch hits by Bill Price and Morgan along with good solid knocks from the sticks of Cliff Johnston and Bill Keeley, sparked a four-run first inning uprising on the part of the desperate champions.

TAKE IT AWAY!

However Jack Devine, Esks' starting hurler, couldn't stand prosperity. Purityx, paced by Lee Bernardon and big Ernie Choukalos, kept pecking away at the right-hander from Saskatchewan and they finally chased him in the sixth after he had give up six runs and 10 hits.

Alex Omelus then took over to worry along through the eighth when he was lifted for a pinch-hitter, Jerry Seaman. Manager Morgan, the damage long since done, managed to retire Purityx in the last inning with but one run scoring.

In the meantime Jack (Lefty) Mills, doing the elbowing for manager Bill (Deacon) Peterson's Oilers, got by pretty easy after that first frame. He was no part of a pastime that, excluding nine hits and giving up five bases-on-balls. But the way Bernardon, Choukalos and Co. belted Esks twirling for 15 hits in all made his task easy.

Between them Devine and Omelus issued nine free trips to first. Esks have had the 'walkingest' staff in the league to this point.

Some weird goings-on in the Esk outfield helped to pile on the woe. Both Johnston and Keeley were charged with errors on easy plays while Brockie misjudged a long drive by Choukalos in the third and let it go for a triple.

The big Purity catcher came back in the eighth inning to line an 'honest' three-bagger (600 feet) far over Brockie's head.

An unfortunate accident, involving Purityx' third-basker 'Butch' Dow, marred the engagement. Dow, while sliding into second base on an attempted steal in the fourth inning, had the misfortune to break a couple of bones in his foot.

He'll be out of action the balance of the season.

Singers, Anavets In Scoreless Tie

Henry Singers and Anavets were as close together as Siamese twins last night, playing to a scoreless tie in a Midget Fastball league game at Clarke Stadium.

As well, both clubs had the same number of hits (4) and errors (2). Billy Tiffin smacked a pair of doubles for Singers, but was left stranded in the sixth and seventh innings. Knowles also blasted out a two-bagger in the seventh.

Moher ON SPORT

By STAN MOHER, Sports Editor

"By All His Chips He Swore It"

Frank Wolfe was strictly solid when by all his chips he swore,
That the downtrodden baseball Cubs should suffer wrong no more,
By all his chips he swore it and named a meeting place.
And bade his bird-dogs ride forth—east and west and south and north
To summon an array.
East and west and south and north the bird-dogs rode real fast
And pretty soon the wires were hot with news that came full blast.
Grove had talked with Edwards, they signed a pact that day
A manager was in the camp, the Cubs were on their way.
Bob McNabb and Robertshaw and Des were added, to
And over in the other camp the Esks were mighty blue.
"What's all the shoutin' over?" Ducey countered with a frown
"Those Cubs'll still be easy, we'll run 'em outa town.

★ ★ ★ ★

"Clarkson Hit a Ton or Two . . ."

A warrior called Gus Kyle played very hard to get
And finally Wolfe observed "no more that man we'll pet," Stevenson will hit for us, of that I'm mighty sure
And even if he doesn't, we'll still find catching cure.
Hawkey of the strong right arm caught the spirit too
His fastball came alive again, the curve was all but new.
And Anderson turned out to be a fella who could stick
While Ryan, who soon arrived, showed he was kinda slick.
And so the season went along, and just like Wolfe had said
Those Cubs threw off the shackles, no more his team played dead.
Clarkson hit a ton or two, with homers here and there
While Callihan and Purvis likewise did their share.
O'er the outfield pastures Ray Canepa roamed so far
The fans sat up in wonderment and compared him to a star.
It wasn't long before the Cubs were right atop the pack
And of hustle and the moxy there surely was no lack.

★ ★ ★ ★

"And all the Boo-Birds Marvelled"

But meanwhile in the other camp the Esks were deep in gloom
While Duckey he did grind his teeth and Morgan talked of doom.
Seaman somehow lost his stuff and Belter came acropper
Wright proved a green one, Leach was not his popper.
So talk was all of "shake-up", the axe fell here and there
And even after Morris came they didn't seem to care.
"They've lost their fighting spirit, they've got their daubers down, They'll never win the pennant," was heard around the town.
So Wolfe received the plandits which were of public right
While Ducey hit the side-streets and stayed clear out of sight.
And all the boo-birds marvelled to see the Cubs so high
While even Esk supporters were not inclined to cry.
It seems the Cubs will stick up there, high on the pace
In the torrid weeks that lie ahead, no matter what the pace.
Which brings us to the Eskimos, the champions of old
They need a shot of benzedrine, without which they run 'cold'.

PETE OLYNYK
. . . Five-Iron Specialist

Five-Iron 'Magic' With Pete Olynyk

By Jim McCurdy

Pete Olynyk dropped three balls on the 18th fairway at the Mayfair Golf course the other day, took out his five iron and proceeded to 'plant' the balls eight, three and five feet away from the pin, respectively.

All this was for the benefit of Bulletin photographer Peter Sullivan and the reporter who were out rounding up the Mayfair pro's pointers on the five-iron for the paper's 'How to Play Golf' series.

'LITTLE' HE SAYS

After this 'little' performance Olynyk's only comment was: "I should have you guys along with me all the time."

This is the second of two articles by Olynyk. The first dealt with the playing of trap shots.

The boss of the Mayfair pro shop has been installed at the South Side layout for about five years. He learned his golf in the city.

This summer, as he has for the past few years, he will be taking a crack at the Canadian open title. Last year at Vancouver he picked up some change by finishing in a fifth-place tie where the Canadian professionals were concerned. This year's tournament will be at Toronto St. George's course, June 22.

He is a one-time city open champion but never has captured the provincial crown.

But the purpose of this story was to pass along Olynyk's lesson on the five-iron. It follows:

SEE—NOTHING TO IT

"In playing the five-iron, play the ball from a point opposite a point midway between the feet so as to enable you to hit it a descending blow.

"Start the backswing all in one piece—that is, club, hands, arms and body together. Keep the wrists a little firmer than with the woods. This shot is a precision shot, not one for distance.

"The right wrist must be under the shaft of the club at the top of the backswing and the left arm straight, but not rigid.

"Do not start the downswing with arms and hands, instead begin with the hip turn to the left. This will bring your club down to hitting position. The hands and arms then can hit a firm, crisp blow through the ball.

"Played in this manner you will acquire a shot with a considerable amount of backspin which will hold the ball true on its flight and enable you to pitch boldly to the pin."

"After hitting the ball just follow through naturally, keeping the head down until the swing is completed."

NORTHERN LIGHTS 'CAP GOES TODAY

The Northern Lights Handicap, last of four $1,200 purses up for competition at the spring meeting, goes today at the Exhibition track.

Four top horses have been nominated for the seven furlong event, and most observers feel it will be a good race for second place with top-weight Pagan Star (he'll pack 131 pounds) generally conceded top spot.

The respective owners of Gay Guy, Amiterson and Harvey M have other ideas and will have their horses primed to knock of the Neil D. Campbell flash.

S.S. Winging Along In B Loop

'Lou' Evans paced South Side to its fifth straight victory in the Senior B baseball league last night enjoying a perfect night with the stick as SS walloped Westmount 10-5.

Evans banged out three singles in as many times at bat. Lolo connected for a triple for the victors.

Kramer-Riggs Duo Win World Title

LONDON, June 4.—(AP)—Jack Kramer and Bobby Riggs teamed up last night to win the world professional doubles title.

It took the two Los Angeles swingers five sets, however, before they licked Pancho Segura of Ecuador and Dinny Pails of Australia, 3-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1.

Tonight Riggs and Kramer will face each other to decide the singles championship.

Big George Stops Fine 'Cap Field

Gives Spanish Main Good Reason For 'Horse-Laugh'

By Stan Moher
Bulletin Sports Editor

Spanish Main, standing at stud somewhere in southern Alberta, had reason to give off with another big horse-laugh (how could he give off with any other kind?) along about sundown last night.

You see just about the time Old Sol was beating it away over the western horizon Spanish Main's prize offspring, Big George, was standing 'pretty like' in the winner's circle at the Exhibition oval, waiting for candid-camera ace 'Clarkie' Scott to train his sights his way.

Big George, champion prairie juvenile in 1948, had just finished stopping a fine field of three-year-olds to win the Vanity handicap, feature race as the spring meeting continued through its 10th day.

Time was when the provincial government refused Spanish Main a license to stand at stud in Alberta. Somewhere along the way a board of veterinarians, called into conference by department of agriculture heads, had ruled against Spanish Main as a desirable progenitor of racing stock in these parts.

'STRING HALT'

"He's got string halt," they ruled, meaning that the horse who traces back to the great Teddy, lifted his hind legs in a manner frowned upon by the so-called purists.

Thus it was necessary for the owner of Spanish Main to ship him off to Virginia, where he was permitted to stand at stud. So well did he do (Big George was just one of his colts during that period of exile) that horsemen in the southern part of the province began to agitate for a removal of the ban imposed by the Alberta government.

To make a long story short the rebels were successful. Spanish Main was returned from 'Virginny' a few months ago and given a clean bill-of-health by the government.

Now to get back to Big George and that handicap he won yesterday.

Stan Connell, up on Family Shares, took the top out of the gate, closely followed by Broad Bend. This left Big George, the odds-on-favorite, about in the middle of the pack, with Mainking, Royal Pilot and Sir Long in behind.

TURNS ON STEAM

For just over a half Rex Leavitt, who had the mount on Big George, was content to follow the leading leaders closely. However coming off the backstretch the second time Leavitt gave the word and Big George came around the pacemakers to lead the charge through the stretch and score by a length over Family Shares. Broad Bend was next.

Perfect weather greated another good turnout yesterday.

Sir Broxa and Fair Erin combined for a double payoff of $21.90. The one-two bet in the seventh, Painted Lilly (6) and Just Rusty (5), returned $21.45. Incidentally Painted Lilly ($18.00) proved the best investment of the day, barring the double and quinella dividends. See the chart (page 18) for details.

NEWCASTLE MENTOR BLASTS COAST PARK

VANCOUVER, June 4—(CP)—The touring Newcastle United soccer team from England found disappointment here yesterday on arrival from Edmonton.

Callister Park, where the English squad meets the Vancouver All-Stars tonight, has a dirt pitch.

"It is a disgrace to soccer," said George Marten, manager of the tourists. "To ask a million dollar team like Newcastle to play on that ground is a shame."

He felt sure there would be grass in a city where "things grow with such ease."

"If I had known we would have been asked to play on a pitch like this, Vancouver would not have been booked on our tour."

Fair Erin [illegible] responded quickly when called upon, took command without trouble and won as her rider pleased. Carlie Flag closed some ground from the final turn. Miss Truant made the early pace, was no match for the winner when challenged and gave way after five furlongs. Penny D gave ground steadily. Diana Mae had brief early speed.

Camp Whip was conveniently placed from the start, was taken to the outside for the stretch drive, responded stoutly and wore Gallant King down a short distance out. Gallant King was made much use of racing with Noddy's Number, gained command briefly but could not cope with the winner. Noddy's Number made the running, shook off repeated challenges from Gallant King but faltered when the stretch run came. White Moss lacked early speed but was closing gamely under the weight in the final sixteenth. War Vesp was never a serious factor.

Moose, Walkies In Fastball Wins

Stan Ahlstrom Sets Down Sparling Davis; A's Lose

Stan Ahlstrom refused to blow up last night when the pressure was on and as a result Moose edged the winless Sparling Davis crew 6-5 in a Senior Men's Fastball league game at Kingsway park.

In a Senior Ladies' loop contest Walk-Rites trampled South Side Athletics 6-0 as Ruth Hayes and Ellie McIntosh combined to limit the A's to five hits.

Chuck Fenenboch started on the mound for Sparling-Davis and was nicked for five runs in the second inning as the Moose crew more than batted around. Three walks, three hits and fielder's choice gave the winners a lead they never relinquished although it took Doll Melnyk's inside the park home run off reliefer Jim Macrae in the fifth inning to cook up a margin of victory.

OILMEN START DRILLING

Starting in the fourth frame the Oilmen began chipping away at the Moose lead with single runs in the next three frames. Then, in the last inning they scored two runs before anyone was out. That was Ahlstrom's cue to settle down and he retired the side in order.

The gal's game was a series of blanks for four innings before Walk-Rites finally scored twice in the fifth without getting a hit. A single run in the sixth and three in the seventh brought their final total to six.

There is no action at Kingsway tonight. Sunday Singers and Precision tangle in the first game of a double-header while Moose and Anavets meet in the afterpiece. Starting time is 2:30 p.m.

Students Should 'Rah, Rah' Here

NEW YORK, June 4—(AP)—Sir Frank Beaurepaire, chairman of the Australian Olympic committee, said yesterday there still was a possibility the 1956 Games in Melbourne would be held in December and January to accommodate North American college athletes.

Sir Frank, who arrived Thursday, was commenting on a recent statement by J. Sigfrid Edstrom of Sweden, president of the International Olympic committee, that the Melbourne Games would be staged in October.

The Australian official said if the games were held the last week in December and the first week in January they would coincide with Christmas vacations at North American colleges.

KNEE INJURY WILL SIDELINE STU HART

Stu Hart, Edmonton 'rassler' who, along with his wife, was involved in a head-on automobile collision last Tuesday near Shelby, Mont., will be out of action for some time.

That was the bad news promoter Al Oeming conveyed last night. The Boy Matchmaker, quoting a telegram, said that Hart suffered a chipped bone on his right knee.

Latest news about Mrs. Hart is that she is suffering from a fractured skull.

You Think You Have Troubles Charlie Casey!

OMAHA, Neb., June 4—(AP)—Because the horse he bet on bolted and lost the race, John Staskiewicz is suing Ak-Sar-Ben race track for recovery of $3,300.

In his suit filed in court here, Staskiewicz alleges the horse, Wongerra, lost the seventh race at Ak-Sar-Ben Wednesday because of "wilful and neglectful acts" on the part of track officials.

Petition filed Thursday alleges the horse was leading by three lengths 70 yards from the finish line when suddenly Wongerra became skittish at the thin beam of light laid across the finish line for the electric camera.

Staskiewicz said the light so frightened Wongerra that the horse veered sharply and lost the race. Jockey Ton Tavares got Wongerra across the finish line in third place.

The petition states Staskiewicz and others bet $3,300 which he wants to recover for the group.

GOBLINS OR FAIRIES?

THE Teenie Weenie Sailor reported that while searching for a bit of lumber from a berry basket he had seen Grandma Pettigob drop her door key. "She locked her back door, then dropped the key and it fell through a crack in the porch floor," said the Sailor. "She tried to pry up a plank with her hatchet, but it was nailed too tightly, and she went off grumbling to herself."

"Some of you men ought to get the key for her," suggested the Lady of Fashion.

"Ah, shucks!" growled the Dunce. "She set traps for us, didn't she? Let her get her own key."

After lengthy argument, a number of the men decided to recover the key. They went to the porch and peered through the crack in the floor. They could dimly see the key lying there.

"You're skinny enough to slip down through that crack," suggested the Turk, nodding toward the Dunce. "You go down and tie a rope to the key and we'll pull it up."

"SAY!" exclaimed the Dunce. "I don't want to be gobbled up by no rat down there."

"A rat would have too much sense to bite you," laughed the Turk.

"Ah'll go down," offered Gogo. But when he tried to slip into the crack he found that he was a little too plump to get through.

Shamed by Gogo's willingness to go under the porch, the Dunce changed his mind and offered to go. Taking the end of the rope, he slipped through the crack and tied the line to the key. The men quickly pulled the key up and removed the string. They had just laid it on the door sill where Grandma could easily see it when they heard footsteps coming around the house. The Teenie Weenies hid under a bush near the porch and presently Grandma appeared with Uncle Jimmy following close behind. (Uncle Jimmy lives near the lane that runs past Grandma's house and he does odd jobs for the big people in the neighborhood.)

"It fell right down there," Grandma said, pointing to the crack. "Just pry up that plank and you can easily get it."

Uncle Jimmy was about to pry up the plank with a wrecking bar when Grandma screamed, "STOP!"

"Look," she said, pointing to the key. "Someone got that key out." She looked suspiciously about and then whispered, "There are goblins or fairies of some sort hanging around this house."

"Yes," nodded Uncle Jimmy. "Little people live near here; I've seen their tracks around my house."

ON THE TOWN

By J. D.

Took a ride out to the airport the other afternoon to see a visiting friend off to Eastern Canada. Like many other visitors my friend was curious about the double streetcar trucks on Kingsway.

He could scarcely believe me when I told him that Kingsway has been paved and car-tracked for more than 35 years without a single street car rumbling along the broad thoroughfare.

Until shortly before the last war Kingsway, or Portage Avenue, as it was known previous to the Royal visit, held another unique distinction. It was said to be the longest paved thoroughfare in Canada without a single building fronting it.

For decades, Portage was the whitest kind of a white elephant. It was always good ammunition during civic election campaigns.

I remember a big placard appearing at one election meeting with a north end delegation, that read: "We'll vote for candidates who'll move Portage Avenue to Alberta Avenue." Alberta Avenue, or 118 Avenue, wasn't paved at that time.

PAINFUL MEMORIES

During the hungry thirties, hard-pressed taxpayers continually reminded the city fathers of the costly folly of Portage.

But Portage Avenue was not altogether in vain even during the 1920's and 30's. For years it was Edmonton's most popular lover's lane.

It was short on street cars but never on parked cars of a nice summer evening.

If you invited a "nice" young lady to take a car ride 30 years ago she would be very apt to extract a solemn promise that you "stay away from Portage Avenue."

Things got so bad, or so good, according to your viewpoint, that Portage was carefully patrolled by the gendarmes on summer evenings.

It mother's little girl wasn't safely home before midnight, Pop would likely head for Portage avenue with blood in his eye.

STILL BLIND ALLEY

But commercially, Portage was still pretty much of a "blind alley" over all its nearly three miles of pavement up until just before the last war.

It came in handy twice as a magnificent runway for the late Wiley Post. The runwayless airport became a quagmire from soaking rains. So Post sent his historic world-girdling Winnie Mae roaring down Portage to successful takeoffs on two world flights.

Then came the Royal visit in June 1939.

It is estimated that 40,000 Edmontonians roared a wild welcome to their King and Queen from bleachers on both sides of Portage. They paid a dollar a head for the privilege too. That was the end of Portage Avenue. It was renamed Kingsway right after the departure of the Royal couple.

Then came the war. Kingsway was changed forever.

The huge construction program at the airport, the great RCAF training stations, the United States Air Base, Aircraft Repair and a host of other projects changed Edmonton's white elephant into one of the main traffic thoroughfares of the city. It's remained that way and will likely become even busier in the years to come.

But when is the city going to tear up those streetcar tracks? They still give taxpayers the creeps.

FEAR OF WAR grips Germans, says Rabbi J. J. Eisen, who is visiting Edmonton following his return from Bremen where he was with Canadian Jewish Congress for two years. The Rabbi, who formerly was rabbi of Edmonton's Beth Shalom synagogue, says Germany will line up with "side most likely to return country to its former greatness." —Photo by Sullivan.

Survival Hope Slim For Jews in Europe

There is very little hope left that the Jew will survive in Europe.

That is the opinion expressed this morning by Rabbi J. J. Eisen, formerly of Edmonton's Beth Shalom synagogue, who is visiting the city following his return from Europe.

Rabbi Eisen spent almost two years with Canadian Jewish Congress in Bremen, Germany. He arrived back in Canada two weeks ago.

His job in Germany was to get Jews out of the country. Most were sent to Israel "where they have a great future."

He has high hopes for Israel's future, both industrially and financially.

"The Jew and the Arab will live in peace," he said. "Our people have brought a higher standard of living to the country. Only a few Arabs resent us.

"The Arab working man realizes what he has gained through the coming of the Jews. He appreciates the Jew and will live in peace with him."

Colorful Chapter Closes As Bay Land Office Shut

Big Business Centre Fades From Existence

By JACK DeLONG
Bulletin Staff Reporter

Colorful chapter in Edmonton's history ended recently in the closing of the Hudson's Bay Co. land agency.

The agency has been operating here for 37 years except for the four-year period of 1912-1916 following the collapse of the city's first wild real estate boom and bust.

For the past three years the department was under the management of Herbert Leah.

Mr. Leah has entered into partnership with Leslie G. Pugsley, which firm will operate a complete real estate, property management, insurance and appraisal business. It will also act as agent for the Hudson's Bay Co. in land and property dealings.

Firm is located in the Bradburn-Thompson Block on 101 street.

Hudson's Bay land department was first opened for business in Edmonton in 1912.

Not so many Edmonton citizens are aware of the fact that a good-sized slice of what is now downtown and residential Edmonton was Hudson's Bay land.

The area of Hudson's Bay land extended from the north bank of the river to 118 and 124 avenues and from 101 street to 121 street.

There was about 4,000 acres in all.

Last big sale to the city was in 1912 when what is still referred to as the Hudson's Bay Reserve became property of the city of Edmonton.

That is the large section in the vicinity of Kingsway between 111 and 107 avenues, where the Prince of Wales Armory is situated.

The Bay made many improvements before the land was taken over by the city.

Veteran officials of the department recall that the Hudson's Bay land department paid $246,000 in taxes to the city in 1930, exclusive of taxes paid on the department store and other commercial structures owned by the company.

Land sales running to many millions of dollars went through the Hudson's Bay land department here which was in charge of all company lands from the United States boundary to the Peace River district.

First office, opened in 1912, was in the Merkel Building. Later it was moved to Jasper Avenue where the Robinson piano and music store is now located.

Now the closing of the Bay land office marks another big step away from the days of rugged pioneer-

City Florists Will Observe Shut-in Day

Bouquets of red roses, carnation boutonnieres and flowering plants will bring cheer to hospital wards and sick rooms all over Edmonton Sunday, as Edmonton florists remember Shut-Ins Day.

Over 200 containers of flowers, as well as potted plants and single bouquets will be delivered to hospital wards, Evenlide homes and private homes by members of the Edmonton unit of Allied Florists and Growers. Florists and nurses will be assisted by members of Beta Sigma Phi of the University of Alberta.

First Sunday in June is an annual international day set aside to encourage remembrance of the sick and disabled. From the publicity of that day ministers will remind the busy world of Shut-Ins Day and encourage visits to those who are cut off from the normal activity of life.

MORE ACTIVITY

Madeline Atkinson, Edmonton representative of the Shut-Ins Day Association of Canada urges that more visits be made more interesting.

ASK LITTLE

"Shut-ins ask very little," said Miss Atkinson. "Time passes slowly for so many, and visits from the outside world from people who are truly glad to help means everything. A few moments is little sacrifice for a busy person yet pays big dividends in pleasure to the shut-ins. Many who make such visits come away saying 'I did not help them . . . they helped me'."

Recognition of the day is growing fast she said, especially in eastern Canada. Movies are shown in hospitals, entertainers donate their talents and drives are conducted to obtain typewriters and radios.

"If comparatively little so far has been done in Edmonton," Miss Atkinson said, "it is because the idea is quite new yet. As we are able to send out more publicity and make known what remembrance means to shut-ins, we believe the idea will grow and grow."

National organization was started by Ernest Barker in Goderich, Ontario, in 1941. Himself a shut-in, he realized what service clubs and women's organizations could do for people who were not able to leave their homes and make their own entertainment.

The Arts

Battle of The Speeds Rules in Record Field

By DICK SHERBANIUK

Now RCA Victor has released its new 7-inch records, the general tenor of conversation among record collectors is, "Which do you like better, Victor or Columbia?"

Both company's products are high standard, and consequently opinions aren't too strong either way as yet.

But it will be interesting to see what happens, for it is not very often two large companies manufacture what are virtually different lines of goods, and place them down for John Q. Public to choose between.

Columbia has the edge by getting its product on the market first and has sold millions of its long-playing records (and players).

Both types of discs are fine reproduction, but Columbia recordings are long-playing and Victor's are not. Victor records play about five minutes per side (same as regular discs) compared with the long-playing Columbia which go up to 25 minutes.

Victor has the psychological effect on its side. Its discs are colored, small, and compact. The record players, too, are small. Victor's players are automatic and will give 40 or 50 minutes of listening at once.

Columbia hasn't an automatic cut yet, but the LP discs just have to be switched over every 20 or 25 minutes.

I've heard one can, with some ingenuity, convert the standard 78 speed machines so they can play either 78 or Columbia's 33 1/3 r.p.m. records. Victor's one and one-half inch centre hole might preclude such an arrangement.

In any case, it looks like something of a cold war during the next few years as Mr. Record Buyers decides which of the two setups he likes best.

Here are some current releases on 78 r.p.m. records.

On Victor Red Seal (12-inch): Florence Quartiaro, soprano, sings "Tacea La Notte Placida," from Verdi's "Il Trovatore" (both sides); tenor Jan Peerce sings "Serenade," from Romberg's "Student Prince," and Scott's "Oh, Promise Me" (with orchestra and chorus conducted by Warner Bass, who accompanied Mr. Peerce on his visit here this winter).

On Columbia Masterworks (12-inch), French songstress Edith Piaf sings two French songs, a little less Gallic and consequently more acceptable to Western ears than some of her past recordings. Exiled intellectually in Paris as "The Little Sparrow," she sings "C 'Est Pour Ca" and "Le Yeux de ma Mare" with male chorus.

Thelma Rice Heads Forum

Thelma Rice was re-elected president of the Edmonton Music Forum Club at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Fred Wattam.

Other officers include: Mylanwy Laing, secretary treasurer; Bernt Owren, past president; Gwen Owen, vice-president; Mrs. Sarah Spencer, Mrs. Edna Nicols, Kathleen Clarke, program committee members; Avenir Nizoff, Mrs. Wattam, telephone committee.

Program of Latin American music was presented at the meeting.

Activities of the Music Forum Club for this season will terminate with the annual banquet at the King Edward hotel June 18.

Prof. Richard Eaton, of the University fine arts department, will be guest speaker. A varied selection of movies will be shown during the evening.

Bearded Cricketers

KEW, Middlesex, England—(CP)—Twenty-three cricketers donned false beards to play a "period piece" match on nearby Richmond Green in celebration of St. Luke's Church 50th anniversary. Onlookers were kept busy retrieving the beards whipped away by a strong wind. The 24th beard belonged to the vicar. It's real.

Radio Scheds Still Change For Summer

By DON FLACH

The old order changeth . . . and so doth a lot of the radio shows . . . for the summer months at least.

Stage 49, for instance, has played its last show until next fall's series commences sometime in September or October. In its place is a series of half-hour dramas written by Canadian authors and produced by Esse W. Ljungh. This will take care of the first half-hour of the period. The second half-hour will be filled with a 26-piece band composed of brass, woodwinds and percussion instruments, performing symphonic works.

The band will be under the direction of Cesar Borre, who comes from Belgium where, as in France, serious music performed by symphonic bands is common and many symphonic works have been transcribed for performance by wind and percussion instruments alone.

The Summer Theatre will be heard at 7 p.m. Sundays and the symphonic band at 7:30.

MORE CHANGES

Also among the missing for the summer will be Flibber McGee and Molly, who will be replaced for the season by the King's Men, the same quartet that provides the musical portion of their program. Members of the quartet have been singing together for twenty years —since student days. Ken Darby sings bass, Bud Linn first tenor, John Dodson second teno, and Rad Robinson, baritone. The McGees will return September 13.

Completing its twelfth year on the air this coming week will be the Happy Gang, heard each weekday at 10:15 a.m. After nearly 3,000 broadcasts the Gang will be off the air until fall. It is heard in the United States over the Mutual network.

Fred Allen will wind up his season on Sunday, June 26, with Henry Morgan as guest.

GOING TO VIDEO

Via ultra-short wave, it is talked that Ozzie and Harriet may concentrate on television since the comedy team has called it "quits" with its present sponsor. Dorothy Lamour show on NBC may also be dropped as may the Easy Aces on CBS.

Ed Gardner of NBC's Duffy's Tavern is being released by NBC and may join the parade to CBS.

Possibly lacking the splendor and splash of the academy award affairs, Canada has created a bevy of awards for her radio artists, national and private.

The sponsor of the competition, annual henceforth, is the Canadian Association for Adult Education representing some 44 national organizations. The purpose of the awards is to recognize significant creative effort in Canadian radio.

EIGHT CATEGORIES

The competition is organized in eight categories: drama, music, variety, actuality and documentary, children's, social and community service.

In the drama category, first prize for the past year went to the radio adaptation of Ibsen's "Ghosts" produced by Esse Ljungh on Wednesday Night. Wayne and Shuster took the award for a variety program.

Puccinins "La Boheme," produced by the CBC opera company took the award for music. This program was also heard on the Wednesday Night series.

In the actuality and documentary series, Nevin Bey in the These English series by Bernie Braden with judged best.

The broadcast on Labor and the Communist Question in the "Cross Section" series was judged best in the social and public issues category.

Dick Diespecker, of CJOB in Vancouver, was given first prize for his "The Battle of the Fraser" in the Community Service category.

In the category of children's programs, "The Story Lady" produced by Mrs. E. L. Holmes, Murray C. Cooke and Ernest Mutimer of CJRL Kenora, Ontario, was judged best.

EDMONTON STATION

One Edmonton station, CJCA, was included in the runners-up in the drama competition for a play "Seven is Fatal" by Elsie Park Gowan and Shirley Higginson.

Monday night Radio Theatre this week will present Rosland Hussand and Zachary Scott in an adaptation of the motion picture Mildred Pierce. The story was originally a best-selling novel by James M. Cain. Broadcast time is 9 p.m. Monday.

Wednesday Night program this week will include a radio adaptation of Knut Hamsun's novel which won the Nobel prize in 1921. Broadcast time is 8:30 on CBX. A program of Scandinavian folk songs by the Leslie Bell singers will also be heard. Time 6:30.

Mr. Wilson, who will examine violin candidates, was born in Scotland and received his early training with Henri Berlingchen in violin and chamber music. Since 1923, he has been head of the instrumental department of the Regina Conservatory of Music.

Marketing Scheme For Ontario Wheat

TORONTO, June 4. — (CP) — Proposal for a marketing scheme to handle Ontario fall wheat has been endorsed by the Ontario Agricultural Council.

The suggestion was advanced by the Kent County Federation of Agriculture. Officials said the move would be advantageous because Ontario wheat does not come under the Canadian Wheat Board and does not have a floor price.

Reds Move To Siam

JUALA LUMPAR, Malaya, June 4.—(AP)—Police Commissioner W. N. Gray says some Communist bands are moving out of Malaya into Thailand (Siam) as a result of constant pressure from Malayan security forces.

Stolen Papers Mean Pupils Write Exams

WINNIPEG, June 4.—(CP)—Because a number of exam papers were stolen at Easter, all students of Machray Junior high school in Winnipeg have been ordered by Principal J. R. Ridd to write June examinations.

June examinations normally are granted 25 to 50 per cent of the student body on the basis of academic standing after Easter exams, good behavior and attendance.

Mr. Ridd said today that theft of one set of papers at the school at Easter will invalidate the usual basis for exemptions in June.

CLUB HAS SHINING FUTURE

BOSTON, June 4.—(AP)—Are you a victim of alopecia areata?

If you are, don't be frightened. It just makes you eligible for membership in the High Brow Club, Incorporated.

Five men filed with the Massachusetts Secretary of State yesterday an application for papers of incorporation for their club.

Its stated purpose is to "foster respect in society at large for those of negligible hirsute adornment, and to encourage closer unity among men with clear pates."

Alopecia Ariata is just a fancy name for baldness.

BODO, Norway—(CP)—A firm here has recently patented a trawling rig which may revolutionize cod-fishing techniques in the north. The new trawl can be operated by a single vessel, can be adjusted to the size of the ship, and can be manufactured at low cost.

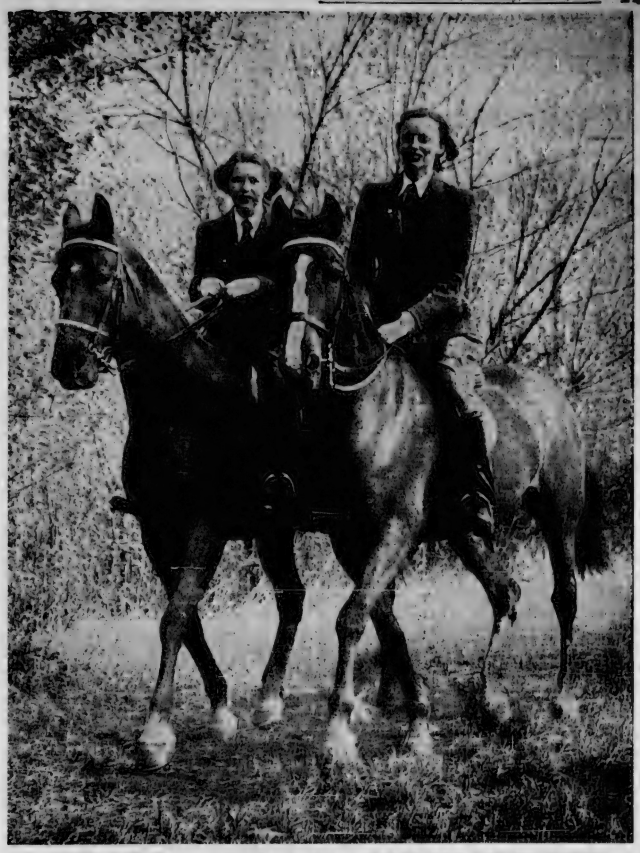
TENNIS IS A SMASHING GOOD GAME

HEAVE HO! Tennis is a fine game, says pert Helen Lilly, but it involves using a terrific number of muscles. Not only is there the strenuous business of swhooshing the ball backwards and forwards with alarming rapidity and frequency but there is the problem of tightening the net too. Helen is a member of Glenora Tennis Club.



TWIN PRECISION OF BEAUTIFUL HORSES ADD JOY TO RIDING

GOLFING GETS AS MUCH ATTENTION AS MEAL-PLANNING

A SUNNY DAY AND ENTHUSIASM add up to a day at the golf club for pretty Mrs. Ian McBride. Summer hours pass like feathers in a breeze for golf-lovers. Elizabeth McBride loves the game for the fun it creates, the skill it develops, the outdoors-pleasures of greening hills, fresh air, hot sunshine.

HOT SUMMER SUNSHINE KEEPS TOTS HAPPY AS LITTLE CLAMS

REMEMBER THAT SMOOTH COPPERY TAN you nurtured every summer of your early youth? Well, this is the way you did the job. Just like midgets Alan Wilson and his elder brother Bobby, you basked in the summer sunshine in brief ensembles like theirs. Now with a toss of dignity and a pinch of modesty added to your make-up the daily summer-sunning is somewhat more difficult. Although pretty mummy, Mrs. Tim Wilson, is managing a fairly good job of tanning, isn't she?

New-Comer Linens Entrance Ol' Bea

By Bea Thrifty

I'm all agog!
I've just come from a perusal of the linen shops . . . and oh . . . what lovelies . . . what beauties!
This is the time when all good women come to the aid of the bride-to-be with gifts of linens . . . and often to their own aid with the same precious linens.

There's a host of wonderful newies . . . some old faithfuls back from Ireland after the austerity of war and post-war era . . . some completely new color ideas in towels, sheets, pillow cases.

As a matter of fact, I'm completely out of breath right now. I've been enthusing about all the wonderful ways to spend money in the linen departments to all my friends all day.

Hot roll covers are back after a lengthy absence and they're prettier than ever.

Now you can buy them in lovely Madeira cut work for a mere $1.98. The four cut-worked corners fold over the rolls.

Think what a splendid shower gift . . . think what a splendid gift for yourself! You're kind of nice you deserve a wee giffie now and again.

Now here's a gem!
Next color ricochets into the linen world with more than usual abandon. Next week we'll be able to buy colored sheets, colored pillowslips, and sunbright colored towels.

The sheets will be in pastels and the price won't be above reach of the average budget, say wise gals of the linen world.

This way you may buy a matched set of sheets 'n pillowslips to match the color scheme of your bedroom. A blue room will be fancied up no end if you have pale peach sheets and slips.

And towels . . . next week you'll be able to buy those pale mauve towels you've been coveting for simply ages. They've been absent from the store shelves for simply years. But they'll be back in full sway for us . . . at good prices too, I understand.

More about towels and won't it be fun to do your bathroom in the palest of lemon yellow walls and have bright Kelly green towels. Or have grey walls, woodwork and splash color with watermelon red towels. Or again splurge with pink walls, woodwork and have grey towels.

The arrival of these prettles open a fine new field in bathroom decorating doesn't it?

I could go on forever . . . but I might just run down for a brief spell after I tell you about the "gay as a meadow-lark's song" cocktail serviettes.

They're two tinies in white linen, appliqued with brightly colored strawberries, cherries, oranges 'n other fruity things . . . or arm band styles, shakers 'n things embroidered on their corners.

This is the way to relax. Massage those neck muscles to relieve the tension you have built up during the day. Good for the hair, too.

WHY GROW OLD

Massage Can Be Most Relaxing

By Josephine Lowman

Massage can be most relaxing. It is too bad that so few can afford the time, or more to the point, the money, for a bang-up job once a day. I really do mean bang-up. I mean deep but gentle massage which stirs up circulation, relieves us of tenseness and puts us in a gay, pliable mood.

If we could all relax under the hands of an expert in the late afternoon before we gather with the family each evening, we would be better dinner companions and more beautifully integrated individuals. Some people seem to thrive on the constant push of living but these folks almost always have mental attitudes and cutoffs and humorous outlooks which save them from the usual wear and tear of confusion.

There is evidence that massage at the back of the neck and over the large muscles at the sides of the neck increases hair beauty. One theory promotes the idea that massage along the breast bone is an aid to youthful appearance. The scalp treatments of at least one widely-known house always includes massage of the neck and shoulders. The expert picks up the large muscles in her fingers and manipulates them.

If you cannot afford to have an expert you might at least take a "breather" between the rush of day and evening activities with a rest period. During this you might induce your daughter, mother or sister to give you a taste of massage at the back of the neck and over the shoulders.

Unless you are a genius in the art of relaxation and have the knack of staying relaxed on the inside while you go full tilt you should take definite steps toward protecting yourself from the speed of modern daily living, that is, if you wish to remain youthful, most efficient and most happy in your relationships.

Relaxing exercises help many women. If you would like to have my relaxing exercises explained in mild and easy, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 20 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Anyway you choose them . . . they're cuties and they sell at $3.35 per half dozen.

Others are available at lower and higher prices. But these caught my particular fancy.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Fine Father Praised By Appreciative Wife

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Not so long ago a letter dealt with the indifferent father who would have nothing to do with the responsibilities of his family. Here is the reverse side of the picture and it is a bright one.

Margaret Ann, 14 months old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Rattray, of 12529 127 street.

Mrs. G.W.L. writes, "I have no other way of paying my tribute to my husband except to talk about him to someone like you. It worries me when I hear so many husbands unwilling even to change the baby's diaper, or to stay with them for whatever reason.

"Our boy is now four years of age. We never had any trouble, fussiness or feeding problems and not one cold the whole first year. So, of course, I had to be awakened at night, but despite the fact my husband is a heavy sleeper, he got right up, changed the diapers and brought the baby to me. It was cold, too, as we had no control over the night heat in our apartment.

"For the first six weeks he did the diapers at night to save me walking up and down four flights of steps. I thought wonderful, which I attributed to nursing the baby.

"We never took the baby out at night so he was a 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. sleeper, but now that he is older he recognizes that we like to be with our friends so he goes to bed in their homes without a bit of trouble.

"My husband gets a kick out of giving him a bath and often they take it together, which is fun for both.

"We are trying to train our boy to be a good father, too, and so he plays with dolls, if he wants to and we have made a bed and blankets for his Panda.

"We have very seldom spanked him, or even spoken harshly to him, and he is the most responsible 4-year-old we know. We have always answered his questions and tried to explain our reasons for any action taken and he understands amazingly.

"My husband and I get out occasionally together, I belong to two clubs and even if I go alone, he does not feel that he has to have a matching night out with the boys.

"I feel so lucky to have a companion and helper and not a bogey man who only punishes and does nothing constructive."

And he's lucky that he has an appreciative wife. This is marriage at its best and finest and all of you profit by it.

Our leaflet No. 70 "Asking Why and What For," on how to deal with a child's questions may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Parents Must Prepare Security in Old Age

DEAR MISS DIX: I think that it is the duty of all parents to give their personal attention to the rearing of their children and not to depend on nurses and governesses and baby-sitters to do the task.

ANSWER: Certainly there could be no arguing about its being the duty, above all other duties, of parents to give all that they have of wisdom and strength and high ideals to the education of the characters of their children.

For how a child turns out is not a matter of luck. It is relentless logic. Every baby who is born is clay in its parent's hands and they can make of it something noble and fine and beautiful, or by their neglect let it develop into something that is a heartache and a shame to them.

Parents owe much to their children, but not everything, and when fathers and mothers have sacrificed themselves to their youngsters they do them as deadly a wrong as malice itself could invent.

And we see this happen so often in the spoiled brats who make doormats of Pop and Mom and treat them with a contempt that they show to no other human being.

PARENTS STARVE

All of us know plenty of fathers and mothers who starve that their children may be clothed who go shabby that their children may have fine clothes; who literally work themselves to death to give their children to fashionable schools, and who justify themselves for spending all they make on their children by saying that Johnny and Mamie will take care of them when they are old, that their children are their savings bank.

But, unfortunately, grateful children are the exception, not the rule, and when mother and father get too old to work Johnny and Mamie do not often welcome them into their homes with cries of joy. They consider them an infliction.

The moral of all of which is that while parents should be generous to their children, they should never lose sight of the necessity of laying up a nest egg for themselves. It is better and happier for all concerned, for between parents who are independent and who have gifts to bestow and parents who are pensioners, there is a great gulf fixed.

'Ice-Cold' Contract Can Be Defeated

By William E. McKenney

I saw a gadget the other day that a mathematician had worked out whereby you would push a lot of little indicators for the number of sees and kings, also the length of your suit and it would tell you what to bid. Then your partner would take his gadget, push it around, and it would give him the responses. Well, I pushed the thing around on a half-dozen hands, but I found out that when I got through, the robot bridge player was a failure.

I think Alfred P. Sheinwold in an article entitled "Practical Bridge" which he wrote for the April issue of the Bridge World, gives an excellent example of why bridge will never become a mathematical or mechanical game. It is an intellectual pastime. It takes a lot of concentration, but if you do concentrate you will get a lot of fun out of defeating contracts which are really ice-cold.

In rubber bridge Mr. Sheinwold points out that South would let his partner play the hand at six hearts. But a match-point scoring, with North showing the ace of diamonds, most South players would take the contract to six no trump. At the table where the king of diamonds was opened, the declarer won it with the ace. He now led a small club, put on the queen and West, without a moment's hesitation, dropped the jack. Up to this point the declarer had had no problem, but now he was worried about East having four clubs to the ten spot.

In order to get a count on the hand he took two rounds of spades. He found out that West had five spades. Therefore, he must have had four diamonds, probably five, so he could easily have held a singleton club. Declarer led a small club from dummy and finessed his nine spot. West won with the ten spot and down went a safe contract five tricks, simply because West did not give up.

CBC's Miss Long Visits in City

Women Demand Sincerity From Commentators; 'Smart Talk' Fails

By Frances Geddes

Women today demand far more from radio than they did 10 years ago in the opinion of Miss Elizabeth Long, arranger of women's talks for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

She is in Edmonton today meeting some of the commentators who talk on the programs she plans.

Eleven years ago, when Miss Long came to CBC from her Winnipeg newspaper job, she found women wanted rather superficial talks by "smart" women.

Now, she says, women demand sincerity and information and those who talk to them have to know whereof they speak.

In order to have their speakers well-informed, Miss Long's department keeps busy with research on everything from progress of women, through child care to UNESCO.

One of Miss Long's most interesting responsibilities is her job as convener of broadcasting for the International Council of Women. She was asked to do this as a result of her work in getting women from all over the world to speak on the CBC.

She hunted up these women from all nations and found it brought her into contact with radio all over the world. She thinks there are good women broadcasters in every country.

"They all follow the same pattern," she says. First, their subject matter deals with recipes, beauty and housekeeping hints and fashions. Then," she says, "they find they get more listeners if they give news about women We found it the same way here."

There are 3,000 women's talks on the CBC every year and Miss Long must teach those who give them the tricks of broadcasting.

Television will be a wonderful break for women she thinks. "Just as in movies, women have a great pictorial value," she says.

BRIDE-ELECT Patricia Smith is busy planning a July 9 wedding. Her fiance is Sqdn. Ldr. Herbert Victor Peterson, DFC.

Tea-Time Reception Is Held for Dorothy Sproule

Honoring her daughter, Dorothy, whose marriage to Dr. John Siddall will be an event of Wednesday, Mrs. R. C. Sproule entertained over the tea hour this afternoon.

Her Garneau home was bright with spring flowers for the occasion. The tea table was laid with a lace cloth and centred with pink and white carnations and daisies in a silver bowl. Tall white tapers in silver holders completed the decorations.

To receive, Mrs. Sproule wore a figured jersey afternoon dress with a corsage of carnations. The bride-elect was frocked in navy blue with white accessories, and a corsage of pink roses and white daisies.

Presiding at the tea table during the afternoon were Mrs. James Cuthbertson, Mrs. O. C. Longman, Mrs. J. C. Ward and Mrs. M. A. Davies.

Serving were Mrs. A. W. Henry, Mrs. Walter Morrish, Mrs. George Prudham, Mrs. Gordon Proctor, Mrs. Eric Ansley and Miss Elaine Sharp.

Guests were ushered to the tea room by Miss Emily Clever and Mrs. A. Cunningham. Miss Pat Cormick was in charge of the guest books.

Mrs. Sproule will receive again this evening, when Mrs. A. C. McGugan, Mrs. Louis Younger, Mrs. Murdock Nicholson and Mrs. G. E. Hayward will pour tea.

Assisting in serving will be Mrs. William Dodge, Miss Joan Hawkins, Miss Nicki Davies, Miss Ella Potts, and Miss Mary Alice Miller.

Bonnie Scotch Lassie Weds Tony Thibaudeau

In a recent morning wedding at St. Anthony's Pro-Cathedral the Rev. Father F. J. Foran solemnized the marriage of Joanne MacDonald and Anthony V. Thibaudeau.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacDonald and the bridegroom the son of Mrs. R. T. Thibaudeau and the late Mr. Thibaudeau.

A dress of white taffeta was chosen by the bride who was given in marriage by her father. It featured a net yoke with satin quilling, lily-point sleeves and the full skirt terminated in a train.

Her chapel veil was caught to her head with a beaded coronet and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white sweet peas. Pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the bridegroom, were her only jewelry.

THREE ATTENDANTS

Bridal attendants were Mary MacDonald, Teresa Murray and Mary Conney. Miss MacDonald wore a dress of yellow nylon net with a shoulder-length veil and she carried a bouquet of mixed blossoms.

Pink brocade fashioned the dress worn by Miss Murray. She chose a matching shoulder-length veil and bouquet of mixed blossoms. Mary Conney as flower girl was frocked in a pale green dress complemented with a matching veil and she carried a colonial bouquet.

J. Thibaudeau was his brother's best man and ushers were John MacDonald and T. J. Thibaudeau.

Three-tier wedding cake centred the bride's table at a reception held in the banquet room of the Corona hotel. J. Thibaudeau proposed the toast to the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs MacDonald wore a dove gray lace dress with matching picture hat and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Thibaudeau chose a gray crepe dress with matching hat and pink carnation corsage.

"FRIEND AND HELPER"

GET OUT THE PAINTS and color Mrs. Robin in her YELLOW bonnet as she perches on the BROWN bench against the BLUE sky. In the GREY nest are her three children wearing RED, BLUE and ORANGE hats. Little Chief is visiting the bird family and sticks his head out of the nest near the RED mailbox to smile at you.

Birds Give Much Pleasure During Summer Months

Dear Tawasis:

Little Chief thinks one of the nicest things about summertime is the fact birds all come back. Even though robins may wake him up in the morning with their song, he doesn't mind at all.

When the sun shines brightly and days become warmer, you notice how many more birds are around. We see them on lawns pulling at great big worms or watch as they perch on a branch and talk to one another. As the northern days become longer, birds fly from the south to spend summer in our warm sunshine.

It's fun to watch robins or wrens chase one another across lawns or meadows and then soar high into the sky—so high sometimes we can't even see them. Little Chief is amazed at how fast they can move, much faster than he can run.

But hearing them sing isn't the only pleasure birds bring to Little Chief. He loves to watch them build nests from bits of string, leaves, twigs and sometimes even pieces of face tissue. Just a few days ago he saw a father Robin Redbreast tug away at a bit wrapped around a twig. As he watched the bird free the piece of soft paper, he decided birds are strong little fellows.

Maybe you're lucky enough to have a nest of robins, or wrens, or even sparrows, in your yard. Little Chief can't seem to find any bird nests in his garden at all but he has a family of wrens in his gayly painted green and white birdhouse.

Birds are just as happy to build their nests in pretty houses as they are to build them in the trees. Early this spring Little Chief got busy with pieces of wood, hammer and nails and built the smartest looking house. He painted the roof green and on the sides of the house he painted little green shutters.

Little Chief had buckets of fun making the house and now he enjoys watching the wrens fly in and out. Don't you think it's nice for the wrens to have a pretty house?

Soon, Little Chief will have another thrill when he sees baby wrens and baby robins flying about. He likes to watch them learn to use their wings but he never, never frightens them. Something else he knows is wrong is stealing bird's eggs and he becomes very angry when he hears of boys who have done such a mean thing.

Sincerely,

Joan Walker

A favor gladly done you'll find
Your friends will closer to you bind.

In the discovery of how it was that the babies of Flitter the Bat though too young to fly and unable to walk, could still leave the home in a cranny in the roof of Farmer Brown's barn, Peter Rabbit forgot that he was beginning to feel a little cross because of the teasing by Flitter. You remember that Mrs. Flitter had just told Peter that she carried her babies about with her, that while she flies this way and that way hunting her meals, the babies cling to her fur.

"Aren't you afraid they will forget and let go and so get a dreadful fall?" asked Peter.

"Oh, no," replied Mrs. Flitter. "I don't have to worry about that. Why, sometimes it is hard work to make them let go when I want them to. I think they rather enjoy these rides. Anyway they are always ready to go. But I must confess that it does get a bit tiresome carrying them about, and that is why I sometimes leave them hanging to the twig of a tree hidden among the leaves, although I am more anxious about them then than when they are with me. Are you going to stay here for a little while Peter?"

MYSTERY GROWS

"Certainly," replied Peter, looking a bit surprised.

"Then I wonder if you will do me a favor?" replied Mrs. Flitter.

"I'm always glad to do anyone a favor," returned Peter promptly. "What can I do for you?"

"Just keep an eye on these babies of mine while Flitter and I finish catching our supper," said Mrs. Flitter. "Of course, they will be perfectly safe hanging here while we are gone, but I will feel better to know that a friend is near and has an eye on them. Will you do it?"

"Of course," Peter's reply was very prompt. "I'll be delighted to do it. If I see anything that looks like danger for them, I will thump with all my might, and if you are not very far away, I guess you can hear me."

"Thank you, Peter. That will be be perfectly splendid of you," replied Mrs. Flitter as she and Flitter darted away and were lost among the Black Shadows.

And so it came about that Peter

He was keeping guard over two babies hanging above his head.

Rabbit found himself in one of the funniest situations he ever had been in. He was keeping guard over two babies hanging above his head where he couldn't reach them if he wanted to, and where he could not even see, though he wouldn't have admitted this for the world. The fact is these two little Bats hanging among the leaves were so like the leaves in the dusk that Peter couldn't for the life of him be sure which were the babies and which were the leaves.

So he kept watch and thought over the things he had learned and wondered how it would seem to fly, and for a time he was almost envious of the Flitters. Then he remembered how useless are their legs for walking and how impossible it is for them to run and jump.

"We can't all have everything, and I'm satisfied to stay right on the ground," he declared aloud.

"A wise decision, a very wise decision, Peter," chuckled Flitter, swooping down just over Peter's head. "We are much obliged to you for keeping watch over our babies," he added. "Now it is time for us to be going back home."

Mrs. Flitter flew down where her babies hung. They scrambled on to her with a squeaky "food-for" The family flew off toward Farmer

Letters, more letters, and still more letters. Some are long, others short. Some are written, others printed. Some children use ink, others pencil. But no matter how they are written they are still letters and fun to read.

Busy young girl is Jerry Metrunec of Myrnam. During the district festival 12 year-old Jerry participated in a dance, choral selection and an action song. She is secretary-treasurer of the Busy Bees, the Junior Red Cross at Myrnam school.

And besides all this Jerry likes to collect pictures of animals and birds. She also likes to do wood carving and doesn't seem to mind at all helping her Mother do dishes. She even collects the wood.

Ginger the kitten is the pet of Rosemary Mills of 12156 90 street. Since Ginger is a long name for a little girl like Rosemary she calls her pet Ging for short.

Two members of the Tawasis Club are Isobel and Margery Crago who lives at Ardrossan. Margery is only five years old but Isobel, who is nine, goes to school at Ardrossan and thinks it's a lot of fun. These lucky girls had a baby rabbit for a pet they fed with a medicine dropper but since the rabbit was so tiny he died one day.

Mary Ann Dishaw of 9108 142 street, has planted a garden of her very own. Mary's Dad bought some baby chicks a little while ago. Because one of the chicks had a patch of brown on his head the family named him Brownie. That was an appropriate name, wasn't it?

Blayne Nowell, 12510 75 street, wrote an interesting letter on notepaper that had quacking ducks all dressed up in clothes across the top of the paper. Blayne is only three years old, but just like the older boys, loves to play cowboys.

His sister, Adele, also wrote a letter in which she told us how much she likes to color pretty pictures.

'Pitfall' Co-Stars Powell and Scott

Drama and Romance Are Combined in Film at Rialto

"Pitfall," co-starring Dick Powell and Lizabeth Scott and featuring Jane Wyatt, is playing now at the Rialto theatre.

Adapted from the thrilling novel, The Pitfall, by Jay Dratler, the film weaves an suspense-packed drama with a full measure of romance.

Dick Powell is cast in the role of John Forbes, an average young American in his thirties who earns his living as a claim adjuster for a large insurance company.

LIFE CHANGES

On the very day that his prosaic day-by-day existence of working at the office and coming home each night at the same time to his wife, Jane Wyatt and little son, Jimmy Hunt, starts getting on his nerves, he meets up with a new case that changes his life completely.

New case involves sultry Mona Stevens, played by Lizabeth Scott who is involved with an embezzler now in jail. As special investigator Dick meets Mona and is so strongly drawn toward her that he loses all sense of discretion.

A detective who is deeply in love with Mona, hounds Dick unmercifully and succeeds in creating a situation that leads to tragedy when Mona's embezzler gets out of Jail. Story ends with Dick more than happy to go back to the life that once seemed so humdrum.

In every picture since he gave up musicals for straight drama, Dick Powell has proved what a fine actor he is and in "Pitfall" he turns in one of his finest performances. Lizabeth Scott is also to be commended in the role of the bewildered girl torn between her newfound love and loyalty to the man who stole for her sake. As Dick's wife, Jane Wyatt, always a charming actress, also merits her share of kudos.

In supporting roles are such fine players as Byron Barr, John Litel, Ann Doran and Selmer Jackson.

The body of English revolutionary spy John Andre, executed by the Americans in 1782, rests in Westminster Abbey along with other famous Englishmen.

Eternal City Won't Permit Skyscrapers

ROME, June 4.—(UP)—Rome, the Eternal City of the Caesars and the Popes, will never permit skyscrapers to take away its light and mar its beauty.

The superior council of public works examined a ruling of the Rome municipal housing authorities with regard to new construction and approved regulations limiting the size of houses or office buildings.

First of all, the council agreed that every housing project must be studied and given the opinion of the department of fine arts and antiquities before any work is started. For the purpose, the city has been divided into three zones, the suburban, the downtown and the central part.

95-FOOT LIMIT

In the suburban area, building permits will be easy and houses may reach a maximum height of 90 feet—far from skyscraper status. In downtown Rome, the fine arts commission must give a special permit before any building is done and no structure can be over 80 feet tall.

For new construction in the "most central zone," the old rigid laws which retain the antiquity of Rome are still in effect. Not a stone can be moved in the heart of the city without the approval of at least six different government and semi-government bodies—and the public works council said it did not expect many applications.

New Meanest Thief

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—(AP)—William Leiws, 35-year-old polio sufferer, today told police that someone stole the wheelchair he needs to travel between his home and his news stand.

Blow Out the Heat To Keep House Cool

You can make your home comfortably cool this summer.

That doesn't mean a complete air-conditioning system, with ducts—that's not practical in most existing homes.

But there are several simple things you can do to increase home comfort during the months ahead.

An unventilated attic may be a source of as much heat energy as the sun itself. Heat absorbed during the day is radiated down into the house at night.

35 SQUARE INCHES

Louvers at each end of the attic will allow heat to escape. There should be at least 35 square inches of opening for each 100 square feet of attic floor. A piece of wire mesh behind the louvers will keep out insects and leaves.

An attic fan of proper size is a good way to bring cool night air into your home. The fan pushes the hot air out of the attic, allowing cooler air to enter through downstairs doors and windows. Your electric company or appliance dealer has information on the size of fan for your home.

The kitchen is another source of heat. An exhaust fan, either fitted directly into the window, or set into the wall and controlled with a pull chain or switch, will provide relief.

OPEN AWNINGS

Direct sunshine on windows, which raises the temperature indoors, can be stopped with open-side awnings, which form no hot air pockets outside the window.

The color of outside walls can also affect the amount of inside heat. Dark outside colors absorb heat. Light outside colors reflect heat, making inside temperatures from five to 20 degrees cooler on hot days.

Good insulation in walls and ceilings will make at least a 15 degree difference in room temperatures by stopping penetration of heat and retarding extreme changes of indoor temperature. It also saves upwards of 30 per cent on your winter fuel bill.

Opening Here For Versatile Pied Piper

OXFORD, Eng., June 4.—(Reuters)—If there's a pied piper around, a job is waiting for him at Oxford. But he must be able to persuade crabs to dance sideways out of this historic university city.

Crabs measuring three or four inches in width have appeared in widely-scattered parts of Oxford.

Some suggest the crabs are another university prank. Others say they have come from the drains. A third idea is that they have escaped from a fish store.

The university denies complicity and fish dealers are frankly puzzled.

THE "CHERRYMOUNT"— Distinctive design and economy are inseparable elements of Colonial architecture. In the plans of the "Cherrymount" a remarkable roominess is obtained within a reasonably small perimeter. On account of the nearly square dimensions a saving is made in exterior walls plus a simplicity in roof framing. Brick below with wide siding or double shingle courses above gives a pleasing variety to the exterior. Corner china cupboards in the dining room and efficiency is the keynote of the thoughfully planned kitchen. The second floor contains three excellent bedrooms with ample closets and the bathroom has a pleasingly detailed dressing table. Comfortable housing with reasonable cost make this a truly sensible layout. Total cubage is 22,300 feet and the width of 27' makes it suitable for a small lot. This design is another in a series prepared for readers of the Bulletin by Harold C. Beckett, M.R.A.I.C., 52 Chatham St., W., Windsor, Ontario.

In Memoriam

To assist our readers in preparing In Memoriam notices, the Bulletin has prepared Booklet of appropriate wordings. Write or telephone 26121 for this Booklet.

In loving memory of George West, who passed away on June 5, 1948.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past.
In silence he suffered, in patience he bore,
'Til God called him to suffer no more.

—Ever remembered by his loving wife and family.

In loving memory of Lavor Adams, who passed away on June 4, 1948.

A year has passed since that sad day
When the one I loved was called called away;
God took him home, it was His will,
But in my heart he liveth still.

—Ever remembered by his loving wife and daughter LaRee.

Driving Squabble Ends In Court

William Pawliuk, 11831 70 street, had good reason yesterday to ponder the wisdom of using force to settle an argument.

Because he noisily dragged Cornelius O'Ganoski from his car and struck him, he was fined $15 and costs on two charges. He was convicted of creating a disturbance and assualt.

Fracas occurred May 18 near 118 avenue on 124 street, after the pair had been arguing vociferously about driving ability in general.

Arcades May Widen Street

TORONTO, June 4.—(CP)—Shady arcades along Toronto's Yonge street are John B. Laidlaw's answer to the city's problem widening that important north-south thoroughfare.

Mr. Laidlaw estimates the cost of his project at $10,500,000 or an average of $500 a foot for the 21,000 feet of store frontage that would have to be cut back under the present buildings to form the arcades.

NOT NEW PLAN

His plan is an old one. He first presented it when he was a city alderman 21 years ago but is boosting it again now that the city is considering ways of widening the street to ease the traffic problem.

Mr. Laidlaw says his plan would widen the street from its present 42 feet to 62 feet. The arcaded sidewalks would be 15 feet wide instead of the present 12 feet.

The plan was vetoed when first presented by Mr. Laidlaw and former Mayor Sam McBride but now, at 83 years of age Mr. Laidlaw hopes to see his pipe-dream materialize.
